REBUFF TO THE PRESIDENT

House Stays Firm

Washington, July 2.

Repeating yesterday's rebuff to President Roosevelt and his Administration, the House of Representatives has again rejected the request for legislation to outlaw the holding companies. To-day it stuck to its own bill giving the Security Exchange Commission discretionary authority over holding companies by a vote of 257 to 147.

The decision was greeted with loud cheers from the crowded galleries of the House.

Later, another vote of 246-133, brought the House's revised bill from Committee to the floor of the chamber.

The House then passed its modified Holding Company Bill which now returns to the Senate, from where it will probably be sent to a conference of both Houses in order that their differences may be adjusted.

To-day's voting in the House is regarded as being the most decisive defeat of the Administration since President Roosevelt took office.—
Reuter.

BANKING BILL

Washington, July 2.

The Senate Banking Committee has approved the revised Banking Bill which now goes to the chamber.

The Administration desire for some changes in the measure was strongly indicated following a conference between President Roosevelt and officials of the Treasury and Federal Reserve Board.—
Reuter.

THE INDIA BILL

Amendment Denied

London, July 2.

The Indian Government has issued, on the authority of His Majesty's Government, a statement to correct an impression in some quarters that the Government of India Bill has been amended so as to give His Majesty's Government unfettered power to alter at any time they may think fit the constitutional provisions based on what is commonly known as the Government's communal award.

In view of the prevalent misunderstanding, the statement explains what His Majesty's Government considers the practical effect of Clause 304 of the Bill in relation to any change in the communal award and their own policy in relation to any such change, and emphasises that none of the powers of amendment in the clause can be exercised unless both Houses of Parliament have agreed by resolution, and that within the range of the communal award the Government would not propose, in exercise of such powers, to recommend to Parliament any changes unless such changes had been agreed between the communities.—

VOLUNTARY CODE AGREEMENTS

Roosevelt's New Plan

Washington, July 2.

President Roosevelt has arranged with his skeletonized N.E.A. and Federal Trade Commission to carry out with industry the voluntary code agreements, supplanting the code structure torn down by the decision of the United States Supreme Court against its constitutionality.

The Trade Commission is authorised to enter into negotiations with industry in fair trade agreements, while the remnant of the N.R.A. is authorised to assist bringing about voluntary agreements for minimum wages and maximum working hours and the abolition of child labour.

The arrangements are regarded as being indicative of the postponement of any Administration plan to revive the compulsory code system at the present session of Congress.—

EXCHEQUER RETURNS

London, July 2.

Exchequer returns for the first quarter of the financial year show that ordinary revenue, exclusive of self-balancing items, amounts to £129,355,985, compared with £128,168,824 at the corresponding date of last year. Customs receipts are greater by £1,290,000 than a year ago and compared with an estimated increase of £3,474,000 for the whole year. Exchequer shows an increase of £1,700,000 compared with an estimated increase for the whole year of £1,750,000.

Total ordinary expenditure, exclusive of self-balancing items, for the current year to date is £185,570,723, against £177,887,697 at the corresponding date of 1934.—
British Wireless.

TEA RESTRICTION SCHEME

London, July 2.

In reply to a House of Commons question as to what further steps the Government proposed to take regarding the operation of the tea restriction scheme and raising of tea prices, the Secretary for the Colonies, Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, said the primary object of the scheme was to restore the equilibrium between supply and demand.

Market prices in the second quarter of 1933, when the scheme came into operation, were already substantially higher than when the negotiations began, and since then prices in general had been at a still higher level. The Government saw no reason for initiating action.—
British Wireless.

COAL MINE HOURS

London, July 2.

In the House of Commons, the Minister of Labour, Mr. Ernest Brown, announced that following the revision of hours of work in the Coal Mines Convention at the last International Labour Conference, the Government was prepared to ratify simultaneously with the other six countries named in the list.—

NEW HIGH RECORD

Washington, July 2.

The fiscal year's total receipts of $3,800,000,000 compares with the Budget estimate of revenue of $3,712,000,000, the Treasury Department announced to-day.

America's total expenditure reached a new high peace-time record, $7,376,000,000, which included $3,855,000,000 for emergency work programmes.

The gross public debt in America has thus been increased from $27,053,000,000 to $28,707,000,000.—

Here is Health

"The user of Sanatogen is richly rewarded in freedom from languor, a gain of strength and activity and alertness of mind".

writes Dr. C. L. Wheeler.

This is the opinion that medical men have of Sanatogen; and when it is remembered that more than 25,000 physicians have written about the gratifying results they have obtained with Sanatogen, it becomes evident that you can trust this really exceptional tonic to help you, too.

Prof. Mann, formerly of Oxford University, explained the reason for the wonderful influence of Sanatogen on health, in these words:

"A building-up process goes on in the nerves after the administration of Sanatogen."

Start improving your health to-day. Take Sanatogen, and notice how fatigue and nervousness disappear. Take Sanatogen, and in a few weeks you will feel and look better than you have done for years. Follow the advice of these physicians and enjoy once more that sense of youthful health.

THE CARNEGIE BEQUESTS

Controller Feted

(Special Air Mail Service)
London, June 14.

The Ends of the Earth Club gave a dinner last night in honour of Dr. Frederick Keppel.

Dr. Keppel is president of the Carnegie Corporation, and the controller of the greatest private philanthropic fund in the world.

He is a former Dean of Columbia University, and an enthusiastic educationist.

With several colleagues he has been touring the world in connection with the Carnegie bequests.

The resources of the Carnegie Corporation are approximately £30,000,000. Those of the Rockefeller Foundation, the second largest philanthropic institution, are £29,000,000. Dr. Keppel and his co-trustees have the spending of an annual income of about £1,500,000. The major part of it is spent in education.

CARNEGIE CELEBRATIONS

Dr. Keppel is returning soon to New York to superintend preparations for the Carnegie centenary celebrations. One celebration will be a repetition of the concert programme given at the opening of the Carnegie Hall, New York's finest auditorium.

Andrew Carnegie was born at Dunfermline on November 25, 1835. Dunfermline will also celebrate the anniversary of her richest son.

When Carnegie died in 1919, he had given away over £60,000,000. Mrs. Carnegie is still living and is in good health.

She is in her seventy-ninth year.

The Answer

Two Cockneys were watching a funeral.

"Whose funeral is it, Bulls?"

"Why it's—, the famous actor."

"Good heavens! Is he dead?"

"Well, of course, 'ee's dead. Why, do you think he's having a rehearsal?"

THE QUEEN'S GOWN

At Court Ball

(Special Air Mail Service)
London, June 14.

In a gown of exquisite pink lace, glittering with diamante embroidery, the Queen walked into the white and gold ballroom of Buckingham Palace last night, escorted by the Prince of Wales.

It was the second Court ball of Jubilee Year, and the Prince took the place of the King, who is resting at Sandringham.

The Queen wore a tiara of diamonds, and the koh-i-noor was among the diamonds in her corsage. She wore the broad blue ribbon of the Garter, and the diamond emblem of the order was clasped on her arm.

The Prince led his mother to the single golden throne, on a crimson dais at the end of the long room, and then took his place in the royal circle grouped around her.

ROYAL CIRCLE

As the royal procession, headed by the Lord Chamberlain and the great officers of State—walking backwards—entered the room, the string band of the Royal Artillery played the National Anthem. When the Queen was seated the band started the long programme of foxtrots, waltzes, and polkas.

In the royal circle were the Duke and Duchess of York, the Duke of Gloucester, the Duke and Duchess of Kent, Princess Eugenie of Greece, Prince and Princess Arthur of Connaught, with their son the young Earl of Macduff; Lady Maud and Lord Carnegie, Lady Patricia Ramsay, Princess Alice Countess of Athlone; Princess Helena Victoria, Princess Marie Louise, the Marquis of Cambridge, the Marquis and Marchioness of Milford Haven, the Marquis and Marchioness of Cambridge, the Duke and Duchess of Beaufort, Lady Helena Gibbs, and Lady May and Major Abel Smith.

Ex-King George of Greece, Princess Helena of Roumania, Princess Irene of Greece, and the Infante Alfonso and the Infanta Beatrice of Bourbon-Orleans were also in the royal circle.

Among the 2000 guests who danced beneath the soft golden light of the crystal candelabra were Cabinet Ministers, Ambassadors, and Ministers from foreign lands, distinguished politicians, officers of the three fighting Services, and well-known men from every walk of life with their ladies.

The scarlet and blue and gold of the men's uniforms and court dress vied with the moving picture as the dancers moved against a background of gold and white splendour relieved by masses of flowers.

It was a joyous scene, which the Queen watched from her Throne with a smile of pleasure.

GOLD PLATE DISPLAYED

The doors of the grand entrance were thrown open at nine o'clock, and the guests passed up the crimson-carpeted grand staircase to the ballroom, ushered by footmen in full State liveries.

An hour later the Queen and the royal family entered the ballroom, and dancing began.

At eleven o'clock the Queen left the room with her royal guests to take supper. Other guests supped in the State rooms, where the King's gold plate was displayed.

After supper dancing was resumed, and continued until after midnight.

MARRIED ON DAY THEY WERE DIVORCED

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.

A few hours after they had both obtained divorces, Mrs. Pearl Buck, the authoress, and Mr. Richard J. Walsh, her publisher, were married at Reno, Nevada.

Mrs. Buck, says Reuter, had obtained her divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty. Her ex-husband, a professor of Nanking University, filed a general denial of the charges.

Mr. Walsh was divorced by Mrs. Walsh.

Mrs. Buck was once America's best-known missionary, but two years ago she resigned her post in China after it was stated that Presbyterian leaders had made her the victim of a "heresy hunt" because she believed that races which do not embrace Christian doctrines are not eternally damned.

THE PRINCE

On "Cranks" In Authority

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.

The Prince of Wales spoke to-day of "cranks" who would abolish such institutions as the Officers' Training Corps.

He told 500 boys of Berkhamsted School:

"We live in very interesting times, and it takes people of all ideas to make up a community. But it is always a mystery to me how certain people—I will go so far as to say misguided people, and even so far as to call them cranks—can think that the only way they can express the feeling that all of us have of abhorrence of war and of the appalling disasters to the whole world which another war would bring, is by discouraging—or, if they happen to be in authority—prohibiting any form of healthy discipline and training.

DISCIPLINE

"After all, you may say 'Do not discipline boys when they are in schools.' But, believe me, whatever walk of life you may go into you will have to submit to discipline, and I can think of no better way than by healthy training which is given by the O.T.C. and different corps in our schools throughout the country."

The Prince visited the Berkhamsted High School for Girls, and also a kindergarten.

GRACE MOORE

To Go Back To The Stage?

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.

Because of her phenomenal success in London two men have decided that New York must hear Miss Grace Moore again.

They are Mr. Paul Cravath and Mr. Edward Johnson, respectively the chairman and the general manager of the Metropolitan Opera in New York.

Both men went to hear Miss Moore at Covent Garden the other night.

They decided to engage her services for the Metropolitan.

It is understood that a contract has already been offered to Miss Moore.

Should she accept it, she will return to the stage on to which she stepped seven years ago, almost straight from a village choir in Tennessee, to make her debut as Mimi in "La Boheme" at £10 a week.

LEVEL-HEADED

It is a safe prediction that she will be asked to sing Mimi again and that all New York will go to hear the singer who has taken London by storm.

The best London critics rank Miss Moore's talents highly. They admit, however, that her success would not have been so great without the support of her cinema public.

Miss Moore, who is going to do another film, knows this herself. She is as level-headed and as full of common sense as her Spanish ex-bullfighter husband.

MR. JUSTICE AVORY

His Last Hours

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.

Sir Horace Avory, the oldest judge on the Bench, was found dead in his bedroom at the Dorset House Club, Rye, yesterday morning. He was 83, and had been a Judge of the King's Bench Division for 25 years.

Sir Horace's death was unexpected. He was spending the short Whitsun vacation at Rye, and was walking on the golf links on Wednesday.

Lord Hewart, the Lord Chief Justice, in an interview described how he and Lady Hewart found Mr. Justice Avory on the day before he died, "pale and cold and trembling." They got him to bed at his club.

Yesterday morning he was found by a club servant lying on the floor of his room. It is believed that he had a seizure after getting out of bed. He had recently been under the treatment of a London doctor.

The immediate cause of death was heart failure, and there will be no inquest.

TO GET RID OF STOMACH TROUBLES

An English Doctor writes:—

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after most of my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."

(Signed) Dr. H. G. M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

THE English doctor is the most conservative medical man in the world, and when he not only recommends but personally uses a remedy there can be no more convincing proof of its efficacy. This doctor is but one of many who constantly advise the use of 'Bisurated' Magnesia in all cases of indigestion. Most stomach troubles are caused by acidity, and the reason why 'Bisurated' Magnesia gives quick relief is that it instantly neutralises excess acid and soothes, heals and strengthens the inflamed stomach lining. Nothing could be simpler, safer or surer. If you suffer with indigestion or stomach disorder of any kind put your faith in European science and make an end of your troubles by taking 'Bisurated' Magnesia after eating or whenever pain is felt.

STAPLES SURPRISES

Refreshing Salads

Salad can be a modest "accompaniment" to the star courses or a full and satisfying meal in itself. The cool colour is refreshing when the warm breezes blow.

APPLE AND HAM SALAD

Put through a meat chopper 1 pound baked ham and 1 onion. Add enough Mayonnaise to give consistency of a spread and season with Chile sauce. Steam whole generously cored Apples and fill with the mixture. Serve on bed of cole slaw.

ASHVILLE SALAD

Bring to boiling point 1 can tomato soup and add 2 packages cream cheese. Stir smooth and pour over 2 tablespoons gelatine which has been softened in a little cold water. Cool, and just before mixture thickens pour over the following vegetables in mold: 1 1/2 cup chopped celery and green peppers mixed 1 cup shredded beans 1 cup chopped carrots 1 cup shredded slaw Chopped nuts and olives to taste. Chill thoroughly and serve with mayonnaise.

TOMATO SUPREME SALAD

Peel 1 alligator pear. Mash and blend with 1 onion grated and 2 tablespoons French dressing. Skin and hollow out large tomato and fill it with above mixture. Chill and serve on bed of shredded lettuce.

EGG MOLD SALAD

Dissolve 2 tablespoons gelatine in a little boiling water. When cool add to 10 hard-boiled eggs, sliced, 2/3 cup ripe olives, cut small, 2/3 cup chow-chow, 2/3 cup chopped parsley, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce and 1 cup mayonnaise. Mix well, and place in mold. Chill thoroughly. Serve on bed of water-cress.

BET AND SLAW SALAD

Boil large oval beets until tender, cut in half and remove large portion of center. Marinate in French dressing. Next day fill beet bowls with cole slaw in mayonnaise, and garnish with chopped beets.

POLISH SALAD

Grate 1 onion. Dice 4 apples, and slice thin 1 salt pickle. Blend with French dressing and serve in chilled skinned Tomatoes.

KITCHEN TIPS

LEFTOVER YOLKS

When making angel food cake, I keep a pan of boiling, slightly salted water on the stove, into which I drop the yolks of the eggs, and cook until hard. They are good for salads.

GRAVY THICKENING

In mixing flour with milk or water for use in thickening, I put the mixture in a small, covered container, and shake well, causing the lumps to disappear.

A BASIS FOR SOUP

The leaves from the tops of celery, carrots, radishes, turnips, etc., may be thoroughly washed, put in water and boiled, and the liquid used as the basis of a soup. Strained, canned or fresh tomatoes may be added, also a bouillon cube. Season well.

A TOUCH OF COLOUR

A touch of bright colour makes all the difference to the look of a dull dish. Slices of tomatoes, lemon or orange make effective decorations, but if these are not at hand use a little grated carrot.

FOR THOSE WHO LIKE CHEESE

CALIFORNIA SALAD

Grate 1 bunch carrots and 1 bunch small beets. Chop 1 bunch celery and rice 2 hard-boiled eggs. Put these in a mold. Soften 1 tablespoon gelatine in a little cold water, then dissolve in 1 1/2 cups boiling water. When cool add Juice of 1 lemon, 1 1/2 cups mayonnaise, catsup and Worcestershire sauce and mustard to taste. Pour over vegetables in mold. When set, garnish with 2 more hard-boiled eggs, Tomato.

Asparagus tips and Shredded lettuce. Fill center of ring with Shrimp in Russian dressing. This makes a complete summer supper.

CHICKEN MOLD

Soften 1 tablespoon gelatine in cold water and add enough boiling water to dissolve. Cool. Mix together the following ingredients: 1 can cream mushroom soup 1 package cream cheese 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1 cup mayonnaise 1 1/2 cups chopped chicken 1/2 cup chopped green peppers Chile sauce to taste 1 cup celery, chopped 1 cup nuts, chopped. Mold. Chill thoroughly.

RUSSIAN SALAD

Blend well 4 herrings, chopped 4 apples, diced small 1/2 pound smoked salmon, chopped 1 or 2 cucumbers cut small 1 onion, grated 1 cup mayonnaise 2 hard-boiled eggs Celery and Beets to taste. Serve cold Garnish with beets.

FRUIT SALAD ASPIC

Drain juice from 1 can grated pineapple, medium size. Add water to make 3/4 cups. Flavour with lemon and sugar. Heat to boiling point and add 1 tablespoon gelatine. When cool add the pineapple, 1 1/2 cups carrots, grated, 1 cup celery, cut fine 1 cup nuts, chopped. Mold and chill.

CUSTARD FOR SOUP CUBES

3 yolks of eggs slightly beaten 1/3 cup chicken or beef stock salt and pepper to taste 1 tablespoon almonds (finely ground) Bake in shallow pan until firm. When cold cut into cubes. Almond may be omitted.

NOODLES

1 egg well beaten 1 tablespoon ice water 1 teaspoon melted butter speck of salt Stiffen with flour; knead until quite elastic, then roll very thin; dry and cut in fine strips.

EGG RAREBIT

Whisk two tablespoonsful of warm milk with a large new-laid egg. Stir in a tablespoonful of breadcrumbs, three tablespoonful of finely grated cheese, a teaspoonful of made mustard, pepper, and salt. Melt a lump of butter in a saucepan, pour in the mixture, and stir it continually until it is smooth, and creamy. It is important to do this over a very low heat, as, if too hot, the cheese hardens and the egg curdles. Serve on hot toast. This quantity is sufficient for one round of toast for three or four after-dinner savouries.

Asparagus With Pimiento Cheese Sauce

1 cup evaporated milk 1 teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon pepper 2 tablespoons butter 1 cup grated cheese 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento 18 tips, cooked or canned asparagus 6 slices toast Heat milk, salt, pepper and butter in top of double boiler. Stir in grated cheese. When cheese is melted, add chopped pimiento. Heat asparagus tips over hot water. Arrange on toast. Pour sauce over asparagus.

EGG BALLS

Yolks of 2 hard-boiled eggs 1/2 teaspoon melted butter 1/2 teaspoon salt speck pepper Rub yolks through sieve, add seasoning; mix together with a slight amount raw egg yolk. Flour palm or hands and shape paste

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Potted bulbs, such as tulips, which have barely started to show leaf, are charming gifts for invalids. It is much more interesting to watch these tiny plants grow and blossom, than to watch cut flowers fade and die.

For a one-dish meal, breaded pork chops, potatoes, whole carrots and sliced apples, baked en casserole, is very adequate.

Have you seen this fascinating new woodenware serving buffet suppers or informal luncheons? You can get entire sets these days of serving bowls, plates, platters, huge salad forks and spoons, even cups and saucers.

Wall mirrors, when used correctly, do much to make a small room seem more spacious, reflecting both light and colour.

Some people never serve a sweet with a luncheon or dinner when fish has been the "piece de resistance." They prefer wafers, fruits, cheese, or a similar selection for desserts.

WHOLE days of suffering, and in many cases avoided by the simple action of taking 'ASPRO.' When people realise what a wonderful medicine reduces feverishness, and how, after ingestion in the system, being a solvent of uric acid—an internal antiseptic—an anti-pyretic or fever reducer—and a powerful germicide, it strikes at the cause of numerous complaints, then much suffering will be avoided—much illness prevented.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Do not try to scrape and scour a burnt saucepan. Put ordinary salt in and enough water to wet the salt, and let it stand overnight. Repeat if the burn does not entirely yield with the first treatment.

When "doing up" fruit, guard against unsightly stains by taking a little oatmeal, moistening it with vinegar or the juice from a lemon, and rubbing finger stains with this home-made preparation. Lemon juice by itself also helps to remove finger stains.

If you find it necessary to cool a pie quickly, place it on a strainer or similar object so that the air can reach it from underneath.

Add chopped pickles, pimientos and olives to regular cabbage salad and you will concoct a tasty relish suitable to serve with fish, fowl or meat.

Biscuit Variations

RICH TEA BISCUITS

2 cups flour 4 teaspoons baking powder 1/2 teaspoon salt 1 egg 1/2 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add shortening mixing in thoroughly with fork. Beat egg slightly in measuring cup; add milk to make 1/2 cup; add to first mixture. Roll out to about 1/4 inch thick; cut with flowered biscuit cutter. Place on slightly greased pan. Bake in hot oven at 475 degrees F. about 12 minutes.

saucers and cheeses can easily be stored.

Pineapples, apricots, peaches and pears blend well with chops, roasts or steaks. Brown the fruit a little and serve as garnish or arrange in baking pan over meats and bake 30 minutes. The fruit flavoring is delicious.

CREAM CAKE

2 cups sifted cake flour 2 teaspoons baking powder 1/2 teaspoon salt 1 cup sugar 2 eggs well beaten 1 1/2 cups heavy cream 1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt and sift together three times. Add sugar gradually to eggs and beat well. Add flour, alternately with cream a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in a greased pan, 8x5x3 inches, in a moderate oven 1 hour and 10 minutes. Spread chocolate frosting on top and sides of the cake.

Information

Two travelling salesmen, detained in a little village hotel, were introduced to a crazy little billiard table and a set of balls which were of a uniform dirty grey colour.

"But how do you tell the red from the white?" asked one of the guests.

"Oh," replied the landlord, "you soon get to know them by their shape."

CINEMA TRADE NOTICES

MARK OF THE VAMPIRE

"Mark of the Vampire," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer mystery drama will be seen from Sunday at the Queen's Theatre.

Directed by Tod Browning, its elaborate cast includes Lionel Barrymore, Bela Lugosi, Elizabeth Allan, Henry Wadsworth, Jean Hersholt and Donald Meek, to mention only those in the principal roles.

The story is a detective mystery, in which the detective pits himself against a weird vampire cult to solve a crime. The strange "undead" creatures from the grave stalk through an old haunted castle work sinister attacks on living people—and bats fly at night to change to human forms. This fantastic background provides thrills against which an amazing detective plot is unfolded.

It wouldn't do to tell you the story—it would spoil the surprise of it. It's enough to say that if you like creepy chills with a little mystery, a romance and comedy blended into them, don't miss this picture.

BABBITT

The fan mail of an actress who plays "vamps" is entirely different from the fan mail of a heroine.

While a heroine is always appealing, always manages to get the sympathy of an audience, the vamp is always an old meany with designs on man or money, or both. Claire Dodd, who plays the vamp role in "Babbitt," the First National production which is opening today at the Alhambra Theatre, says that of the hundreds of letters she gets every week, she can divide them into three general classes.

One is from men who write that she is so beautiful, they are willing to forgive her villainy and try to reform her.

Another is from indignant women, many of them saying "It is no good girls like you that broke up my home."

The last and by far the largest class of letters is from women of all ages pleading to be let in on her secrets of attracting men. How does she first win their attention; what does she talk about; what perfume does she use?

$10 RAISE

"$10 Raise," the new Fox Film comedy-drama, which opens today at the King's Theatre, has a history behind it.

Reviewers who have discussed this picture are convinced that Peter B. Kyne was thinking of Edward Everett Horton when he wrote "10 Raise."

Five years ago Fox bought this story with the idea of featuring Edward Everett Horton in it. Various causes prevented the realization of this project until this year.

Not until the skillful comedian's name was on the dotted line was work on the script begun, and the picture, now offered to local movie fans, started.

Co-featured with Horton is Karen Morley.

The story concerns a timid bookkeeper, plunged in ledgers for years, suddenly falling in love with a new stenographer, and forced to balance the problem of a static paycheck and an ecstatic romance. From a prince of a fellow, his boss turns into a tyrant.

The steno, patient and understanding, tries to cure her sweetheart of inferiority, and of his fear of the boss. Not until her man is swindled good and proper, and turns his humiliation at the hands of a sharper, into profit for himself, does the worm turn and the erstwhile unassuming office slave changes into commanding personality.

"LIMEHOUSE BLUES"

At The Queen's

At Queen's Theatre yesterday "Limehouse Blues" starring George Raft, Jean Parker and Anne May Wong was shown, and proved to be very entertaining.

Miss Anne May Wong sings "The Limehouse Blues," which is the theme song running throughout the picture, in a very pleasing manner, and her acting left little to be desired. It is a pity, however, that after seeing such a lot of her at the commencement and through most of the middle of the reel, she suddenly fades out of the picture altogether, which rather left one with a feeling that she deserved better treatment than that, for she definitely is missed.

George Raft, looking very sleek (and with very pronounced "slit" eyes) gives his usual smooth performance, while Jean Parker is as sweet as ever, and was a veritable rose amongst weeds in the foggy, coarse surroundings depicted as Lime House. She lent direct contrast to an otherwise very sinister background, and supplied brightness that was very much in need.

The picture is exciting, depicting as it does the London Police in their never ending duels with smugglers, while the incessant foggy London is very realistically reproduced.

"Limehouse Blues" which will have its run soon should prove popular while special mention must be made of a dance performed by George Raft and Anne May Wong which reveals the Chinese girl in our entirely new role—"Film-goer."

GIRL ATTACKED BY SHARK

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Milan, July 2.

A terrifying experience was had by bathers at Susak, a seaside resort near the Italo-Yugoslav frontier, who saw a young Czechoslovakian girl swimmer fall a victim to a shark, before their very eyes.

Two enormous sharks had already been sighted, which is an exceptional occurrence, spreading consternation among the bathers, who made for the beach as quickly as possible.

Unfortunately, the young girl however, had swum out too far and was caught by the monster before she could reach the shore.—Transocean Kuo Min.

GERMAN SEAPLANE
FORCED DOWN

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Berlin, July 2.

Forced down by a leaking radiator, the German seaplane "Torpedo" one of the flying boats of the regular airmail service between Germany and South America was compelled to alight in midocean on Monday half way between the steamers Schwaben and Westfalen which are serving as fuel stations for the German machines crossing the South Atlantic and which immediately went to the assistance of the disabled plane on receipt of a wireless call for assistance.

The ship Graf Zeppelin which was on her way to South America also answered the call and thanks to its superior speed was the first to reach the scene where she stood by till the steamer Westfalen had arrived on the spot and had taken the flying boat and crew on board. Prompt rescue of the disabled plane causes the German press to point out that the establishment of floating fuel stations in mid atlantic in keeping constant touch with planes by wireless practically afford the maximum safety for mail planes obtainable under the present circumstances. After repair made to the sea plane it will continue its flight to Bathurst in British Guiana.—Transocean Kuo Min.

Moscow, July 2.

The Soviet press voices grave concern in comments on the Russian note to Japan, the "Investigator" charging Japanese military circles with the intention of disrupting the peaceful political and trade relations between the two countries.

The "Pravda" in adopting a similar tone, states that public opinion as well as the Government of the Soviet Union are determined not to let the Russo-Manchurian frontier become the object of "continuous perfidious provocatory activities of the Japanese militarists, who have lost their heads and are trying to advance the cause of their Manchurian hirelings."—Transocean Kuo Min.

CHINA'S CRISIS

Courage Needed

Shanghai, June 28.

The seventeenth annual baccalaureate service was held at Ginling College, Nanking, last Sunday at 10.30 in the morning. Because of heavy rain it was impossible to have the academic procession out of doors, and the line of march started on the first floor of the Music-Chapel Building. President Yi-fang Wu with the others who participated in the programme, the faculty, seniors, and members of the graduating class of the special two-year physical education course, processed into the chapel.

After the processional hymn, "Rejoice, ye pure in heart," the invocation was made by the Reverend W. P. Mills of the Presbyterian Mission, Mendelssohn's "How happy all they that love and fear the Lord" was sung by the Ginling Glee Club under the direction of Miss Kathleen L. Bond of the Music Department. The Scripture reading from the fifteenth chapter of St. John was read by the President. Just before the baccalaureate address, a new hymn "Eternal God, whose power upholds" was sung by the congregation.

DR. HSIA'S ADDRESS

Dr. C. L. Hsia of Shanghai was the speaker. After studying in the Anglo-Chinese College in Tientsin, Dr. Hsia went to Glasgow and Edinburgh for further study, and received his Ph.D. from the University of Edinburgh. He was the President of Medhurst College in Shanghai, and during that time served as Chairman of the Board of Directors of Ginling College. In recent years he has been secretary in the Chinese Legation in London, and since his return to China he has been made a member of the Legislative Yuan.

Dr. Hsia chose as his text "Be strong and of good courage" and discussed in some detail the question of success in life. He pointed out how very deeply one's whole philosophy of life is concerned in this question. The first condition for success is that we see life as a whole and in relation to the highest purposes, and give ourselves to making the world a better place and life a worthier thing. Second we must work hard, for there is no short cut to success. Third we must have patience and the ability to wait. As Longfellow said in "The Psalm of Life"—"Learn to labour and to wait."

The decisive and crowning moments of life are very brief, ninetieths of life is preparation for these moments. Lastly, the supreme condition for true success is to be found in the text "Be strong and of good courage." In this connection all must face the present political situation in China. Is there any hope for China? Many people have been saying for years "What can we do?" Are Chinese to lose courage?

THE WAY OUT

There is only one way out and that is the moral way. If young men and women of China still have courage and strength, still listen as Joshua did and take the message "Be strong and of good courage" and are still able to fight, though not necessarily with arms, then there is still hope for China. After the address the Glee Club sang an anthem from "Judas Macbeth" by Handel, "O Lovely

MR. A. H. MANCCELL

To Retire On Sunday

Shanghai, June 28.

In recognition of his twenty years service as secretary-accountant at the Shanghai General Hospital, the Board of Governors and Medical Staff will make a presentation this afternoon to Mr. A. H. Mancell, who retires from that position on June 30.

Looking extremely fit, despite his seventy-one years, Mr. Mancell, said he will live in England, but will surely "come back sometime". He arrived in Hongkong in the late eighties from London, where he was a member of the firm of Garrard, Warner and Company, and was engaged by the late Mr. J. D. Humphreys, founder of the Hongkong firm of John D. Humphreys & Son, to assist in the accounting and auditing work in connection with conversion of certain business concerns into public liability companies.

PIONEER ACCOUNTANT
In those days, there were no firms of accountants in Hongkong, and the first audit undertaken by his firm was that of the Mount Austin Hotel and Building Co., Ltd. Mr. Mancell was interested in racing in Hongkong and was part owner of the "Maggie" stable.

In 1904, he came to Shanghai for the same firm, and later took a prominent part in the organization of the firm of Seth, Mancell and McLure, from which he retired after six years to engage in less strenuous work.

Mr. Mancell is a Fellow of the London societies of Associated Accountants and Certified Public Accountants, and is also a director of the Sunkang Rubber Estate, Ltd. He is an active member of the Shanghai Club, Race Club, and Shanghai Golf Club.

Peace. The baccalaureate prayer was made by Mrs. Lawrence Thurston, former President of the college, and the Benediction was pronounced by the Rev. W. P. Mills.

KISS AND MAKE-UP

Cary Grant, Genevieve Tobin and Helen Mack are the chief figures in an amusing romantic triangle in Paramount's "Kiss and Make-Up," the witty little satire on woman's eternal search for beauty, which opens its local engagement to-day, at the Queen's Theatre.

With a decorative background of the most stunning settings ever brought to films, gorgeous gowns, and the luscious beauty of the thirteen Wampas-Baby Stars of 1934, the film tells the story of the romantic misadventures of a handsome French beauty surgeon who marries one of his own creations, but has to go to his plain, little secretary for real love.

Grant, as the beauty doctor, and Genevieve Tobin, the synthetic Venus, go on a Mediterranean honeymoon. When he encounters the effects of his own stringent beauty regulations, Grant wings back to Paris, determined to give up the entire business and take up scientific research. But first he must win back the love of his simple unadorned secretary, Helen Mack, and the final sequences of the picture are devoted to this gay and amusing romantic pursuit.

ROMANCE IN MANHATTAN

Attention to the most minute detail in settings has given audiences an intriguing, intimate picture of the sub-stratum activity of New York City, with dramatic glimpses of Ellis Island, night police court and the steerage sections of a great ocean liner in "Romance in Manhattan," starring Francis Lederer and Ginger Rogers, and coming on Sunday at the King's Theatre.

The early scenes are laid in the crowded, waterful sections of Manhattan and the speeding, screaming, clanging, motor choked streets are so faithfully reproduced that a native New Yorker would get a real pang of home-sickness at seeing them. The streets were built full size the RKO-Radio ranch. The motor traffic drove just as it does in those crowded districts, and Francis Lederer, hero of the photoplay, fought his way through it just as the immigrant boy he impersonates would have had to have done.

THE RICHEST GIRL IN THE WORLD

Enterprising Hollywood has adopted the "Titanic" disaster as the basis for the thrilling and romantic story in "The Richest Girl in the World," the new film attraction at the Star Theatre with Miriam Hopkins, blonde stage and screen star, in the leading role.

On the night of April 14, 1912, the S. S. Titanic struck an iceberg on its maiden voyage, sinking with 1507 passengers among whom, according to the script, was John J. Hunter. Thereby, at the age of two, Dorothy Hunter became the richest girl in the world.

Following that, Dorothy had everything—French villas, steam yachts, skyscrapers, monster estates. Grown, and typically feminine, she desired the one thing money cannot buy—a fine man's sincere love. Her search for real romance is studded with glittering functions, exciting intrigue and surprising results.

SWEET MUSIC

For sheer destructiveness, chances are that no band has ever existed that can compare with the Frank and Milt Britton organization which appears in Warner Bros. picture, "Sweet Music" which with Rudy Vallee in the stellar role comes to the Alhambra Theatre on Saturday.

This eccentric band, well-known to vaudeville and de luxe movie theatres; holds the unique record of having broken more than 25,000 violins during the five years they have been flourishing.

Vallee's new picture is replete with comedy in addition to that furnished by the Britton band. The film also is livened by such popular laugh-makers as Ned Sparks, Allen Jenkins, Joe Cawthorn, Al Shean, Alice White, and Robert Armstrong.

AUSTRIAN-CZECH
AGREEMENT

Indignation In Germany

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Berlin, July 2.

Great indignation is expressed in the Berlin press at the alleged agreement concluded between the Austrian and the Czech police authorities whereby the Austrians who attempt to cross the Czech frontier to Germany without being in possession of the necessary visa will be detained and extradited.

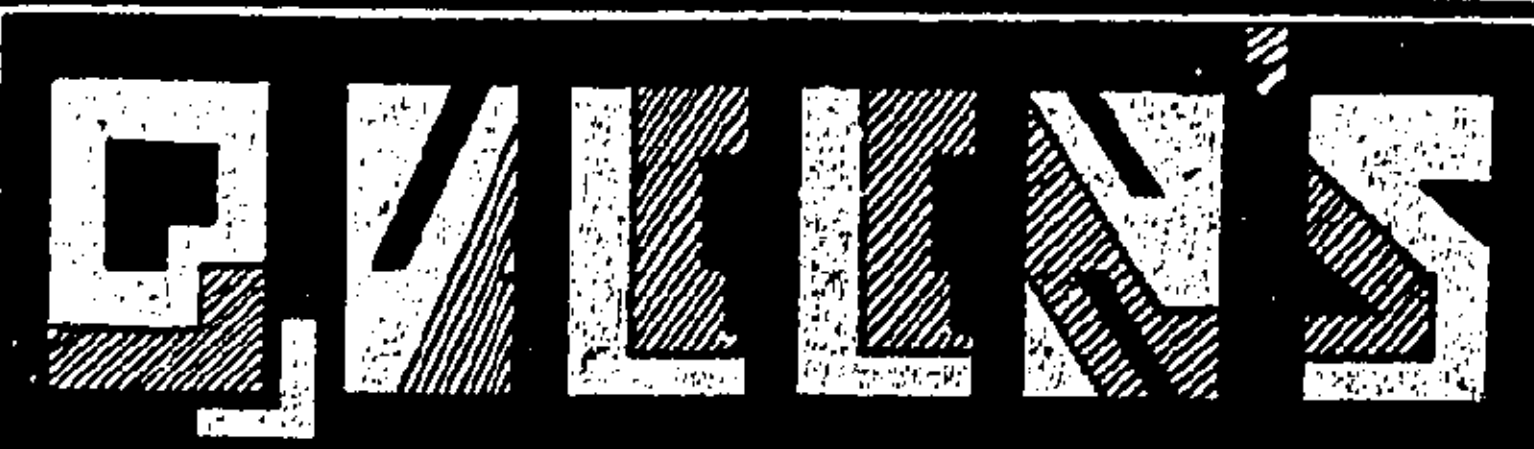

In return for this favour Austria is said to have agreed to hand over to Czechoslovakia any member of the German minorities there who attempt to evade military service in the Czechoslovak army by escaping to Austria.

This alleged agreement is described as the first tangible result of the recent conversations between the Austrian and Czech foreign ministers M. Berger-Waldenegg and M. Benes, relative to the closer co-operation of the police forces of the respective countries.—Transocean Kuo Min.

"MATTER OF OPINION"

Wong Ping Tong, the owner of No. 213 Queen's Road East, was yesterday summoned before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the instigation of the Sanitary Department for using the basement of the above address for habitation or occupation as a shop without the permission of the Board and was fined $5 after some very interesting argument between Sanitary Inspector C. Strange who appeared for the prosecution and Mr. H. J. Armstrong for the defence.

The complainant on the summons was Sanitary Inspector K. I. Woon.

Mr. Armstrong: I am in some doubt in this case whether this is a basement or not. It appears to be a perfectly ordinary shop. There seems to be a lane running up one side of the premises.

Inspector Strange said the Board would agree to allow the premises to be used for habitation if certain conditions were met. One of these conditions was the removal of the cockloft on the floor and the existing partitions. The owner had been notified by letter to this effect.

TECHNICAL OFFENCE

Mr. Armstrong remarked that he thought the offence was a definite technicality. His client took over ownership about six years ago and ever since then the premises had been unaltered. Suddenly, for some unexplained reason, the Sanitary Board required him to remove the cockloft as a condition for allowing the premises to be used.

Inspector Strange mentioned that the cockloft interfered with the lighting. It was at the rear portion of the floor, with a side door leading to the upper floor.

Mr. Armstrong said the front of the shop was all open. He could not agree with what Inspector Strange had said about lighting, as the cockloft was at the back of the floor. He thought it was not at all fair to say that the lighting was inadequate. He saw the premises that morning and they struck him as clean premises.

Inspector Strange remarked that the cockloft was actually used as an opium divan and some seventeen people gathered there.

Mr. Armstrong: That is, I submit, a physical impossibility. I refuse to believe it.

Inspector Strange: There are only six feet between the cockloft and the ceiling, and this space is definitely occupied for habitation.

His Worship: All I can do is to fine on the technical point.

P.W.D. SATISFIED

Mr. Armstrong: If this Court room were joined to a retaining wall it would become a basement according to the regulations. I should like to add that the P.W.D. served a notice on May 15 against the real owner requiring the removal of the cockloft. They have not proceeded. I understand this is merely hearsay—they are satisfied that these premises are suitable and the cockloft is not illegal.

Inspector Strange remarked that the P.W.D. were satisfied that they had permission to erect the cockloft at some time.

Mr. Armstrong: It is a matter of opinion whether this place is well lighted or ventilated, or not. If the Sanitary Board say it is not, that is the end of it, as far as I can see.

A fine of $5 was imposed on the defendant.

Mr. Armstrong added that he would give his Worship his assurance that his client would do something to settle the trouble.

INTRUDER CAUGHT

Chan Tung, 28, paid an "unofficial visit" to 44, Tung Lo Wan Road in the early hours of June 11, but when his presence in the verandah was discovered by the inmates of the house he became nervous and jumped from the first floor to the street below. The result was as unpleasant as it was unexpected for he was injured to such an extent that he was removed to the G.C.H. where he was discharged on Tuesday.

Brought before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Magistracy yesterday he pleaded guilty to being in the verandah by night for an unlawful purpose and was sentenced to two months' hard labour.

Acting Sub-Inspector Madgwick stated that the man was still limping badly. He stated to the police that he was formerly employed at the docks at Hingmoo and was dismissed owing to the depression.

THE MAXIMUM PENALTY

Charged before Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday with the possession of 1,320 taels of raw opium on board junk No. 4532 alongside the Shamshui-po ferry wharf, on Monday, Chan Luen, aged 30, junk master and Loo Po, aged 55, steersman were each fined $5,000 with the alternative of 12 months' hard labour and the confiscation of the junk which is to 171 picul capacity was ordered.

CONCEALED IN FIREWOOD

Appearing for the prosecution Revenue Officer Brown stated that the opium was found on board the junk, concealed in twenty-six bundles. The opium was wrapped in oil-cloth, and two parcels were found in each bundle of wood. Small pieces of wood had been placed in the ends of the bundles, and this necessitated the careful handling of the bundles so that the small pieces of wood would not fall out.

It was further stated by the prosecution that first defendant had purchased the vessel only nine or ten days ago, and the licence had not yet been transferred.

Second defendant pleaded guilty, while first defendant alleged that he was only the master of the junk and had no knowledge that opium had been concealed in the firewood. He alleged that the other man had obtained the cargo for him to carry and for doing so he was to have been paid $2.

AN OLD OFFENDER

Appearing on two charges, one for disobeying an order of banishment and the second for possessions of counterfeit coins, Chan Ngau, alias Li Kai, was committed to the next sessions by Mr. Q. A. A. MacFadyen at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon.

Sub-Inspector J. O'Donovan prosecuted and said that on June 15, the defendant was seen coming off the Canton steamer Sai On which arrived at about 10.30 p.m. at the Tung On Wharf. The defendant was with another man and both were arrested on suspicion and when the defendant was searched a number of counterfeit coins were found on his person. Both the defendant and the other man were then taken to the Central Police Station where they were charged. Lo Tung, the Chinese Revenue officer gave evidence of the arrest which was corroborated by a second C.R.O., Cheng Ping-kwong, and after further evidence was taken defendant was committed to stand his trial at the next Criminal Sessions.

DOG SUMMONSES

Mrs. C. S. Rossett of 24, Broadwood Road was summoned before Mr. MacFadyen at Central Magistracy yesterday on two counts of allowing two dogs to be abroad in a public thoroughfare without muzzles. She was fined $3 on each summons.

Appearing for the prosecution Sgt. Whitley said that the dogs were about six months old. There were only a few people in the vicinity at the time and defendant was with the dogs.

ANOTHER CASE

A fine of $10 was imposed on M. Morris of No. 3 Bungalow, Repulse Bay, when he appeared before Mr. MacFadyen on a summons for allowing a white fox-terrier bitch to be unmuzzled on Repulse Bay Beach on June 24.

Sergeant A. Groves, prosecuting, stated that on June 24, about 6.45 p.m. he visited the Beach in company with Sergeant Whitley, and at the east end, saw three dogs, all of which had muzzles, but one of them had the muzzle hanging under its neck. There were several people about at the time. Defendant said he could not remember the date, and thought he had been summoned because one of his dogs had subsequently scratched someone at Repulse Bay.

SENTENCES CONFIRMED

Fusilier Herbert George Crier, of the Royal Welch Fusiliers, who was recently court-martialled for volunteering for the Guard Room, was sentenced to 14 days' detention by the Court. The sentence was confirmed by Brigadier H. G. Beth-Smith, D.S.O.

Sentence of 42 days' detention was passed on Gunner E. R. A. Banbury of the 24th Heavy Battery, R.A., at a recent Court Martial. The sentence was confirmed.

FIRST GUESTS

To Fresh Air Camp

Shanghai, June 28.

Fifty of Shanghai's less fortunate youngsters must have found it easy to get up yesterday morning, as for 35 of them an all-day picnic was in store and for the remaining 15 it was the first day of a fortnight's stay at the Children's Fresh Air Fund Summer Camp on Great Western Road Extension.

All the children were from the Russian School, 359 Route Cardinal Mercier, a bus, supplied by Messrs. Marden & Co., Ltd., calling for the picnic party at 9.30, while private cars picked up the campers an hour later.

Hostesses for the all-day picnic were members of the Danube Countries Women's Association, Mrs. P. Komor, Mrs. A. Hertka, and others being in charge of the provisions. By the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. R. Herlofson the children were entertained in the garden of No. 290 Hungiao Road, where they ran about on the wide lawns and rested in the shade of the beautiful trees.

TWO WEEKS' STAY

The campers were welcomed at the Fresh Air Camp by Mrs. A. N. Young, chairman, and will remain there for two weeks, in charge of two Russian women. Some of the children had spent a holiday at the camp last year, and had told the new ones of the fun they might expect. All threw themselves with the greatest delight into exploring the garden, trying the swing, and the "jungle gym," and gazed hopefully at the paddling pool, which has not yet been filled.

Groups of children, gathered through the Salvation Army, and other charitable societies in Shanghai, will be given, a fortnight's holiday at the Camp throughout the months of July and August, and it is hoped that all who are interested in this endeavour to lighten the summer's heat for at least a portion of Shanghai's younger generation, will drop in at the camp and see for themselves how happy the children are. The camp is situated on Great Western Road Extension, a few yards east of Hungiao and Warren Roads.

afternoon the case against Chan Ping Wai who was charged for assaulting Mark Ming Hol his mother-in-law was remanded, for one week in order to effect a mutual settlement.

WIVES JUST AS LIABLE

For Their Debts

Changes in the law of husband and wife regarding property and debts are proposed in a Government Bill, the text of which was issued recently.

The Law Reform (Miscellaneous Provisions) Bill was presented by the Lord Chancellor in the House of Lords on Wednesday.

The first clause provides that a married woman shall:

(a) Be capable of acquiring, holding, and disposing of, any property;

(b) Be capable of rendering herself, and being rendered, liable in respect of any tort, contract, debt, or obligation;

(c) Be capable of suing and being sued, either in tort or in contract or otherwise, and

(d) Be subject to the law relating to bankruptcy and to the enforcement of judgments and orders, in all respects as if she were a "feme sole."

PROPERTY

Clause 2 states that all property which

(a) Immediately before the passing of this Act was the separate property of a married woman or held for the separate use in equity; or

(b) Belongs at the time of her marriage to a woman married after the passing of this Act; or

(c) After the passing of this Act is acquired by or devolves upon a married woman, shall belong to her in all respects as if she were a "feme sole" and may be disposed of accordingly.

Any instrument executed on or after January 1, 1936, shall, in so far as it purports to attach to the enjoyment of any property by a woman any restriction upon anticipation or alienation which could not have been attached to the enjoyment of that property by a man, be void.

One of the provisions relating to restrictions upon anticipation or alienation reads:

"The will of any testator who dies more than ten years after the passing of this Act shall (notwithstanding the actual date of the execution thereof) be deemed to have been executed after the first day of January, 1936."

The third clause abolishes the husband's liability for his wife's torts and anti-nuptial contracts, debts and obligations.

The section of the Bill which deals with proceedings against the contribution between tort-feasors

REVIVED HOPES

Of Bondholders

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.

The announcement that Sir Frederick Leith Ross will set out in August on a visit of investigation to China on behalf of the British Government has caused speculation in the City.

Holders of Chinese Government and railway bonds, many of whom have had no return on their capital for years, have found their drooping hopes revived.

A similar return of hope has come to traders who for months past have been warning the Government that unless prompt action were taken the Chinese market would within a year be lost to British goods and British capital invested in China would be irretrievably lost.

Indeed, the visit is in no small measure the result of the F.B.I. Mission to Manchukuo and Japan last year. Sir Frederick has been preceded by Brigadier-General Hammond and two Great Western Railway experts who are making a report on the reorganisation of the Chinese railways on behalf of the Chinese Government.

FOREIGN DEBTS

At present, the outstanding foreign indebtedness of the Chinese railways alone amounts to $42,300,000. On top of this, there are arrears of interest amounting to more than $240,000,000. General Hammond will prepare a scheme for the removal of these arrears—undoubtedly involving drastic scaling down—and for the resumption of regular interest payments.

Observers on the spot report that, with traffic improving steadily, such payments can be easily maintained provided the railways are run honestly and efficiently. To secure this will be General Hammond's second task.

Once these two tasks have been completed, the way will be paved for an international loan. The proceeds of this will be utilised to meet China's two great needs—a stable currency and increased transport facilities.

The provision of the latter, in new roads, bridges, railways, and rolling stock will, it is confidently predicted, involve large contracts for British engineering firms.

provides that the obtaining of one judgment for damage shall not be a bar to any other person in respect to the same damage.

THE CHINESE CHAMBER

Monthly Committee Meeting

The monthly committee of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce was held at the Chamber's Headquarters yesterday afternoon, when Mr. Wong Kwong Tin presided. He was supported by Mr. Au Chak Sun, Hon. Treasurer and Mr. Chan Ping Au, Hon. Secretary.

Other members present were Messrs. Gock Chin, Choy Hing, Jackman To, Mok Kon Sang, Li Sing Kuei, Lui Yam Shuen, Yip Lam Chuen, Fung Ki Chuek, Lau King Chi, Pang Ching Yue, Chow Sing Chi, Mok Lin, Yeung Shu Cheung, Chiu Kwok Hing, Chiu Chiu Fan, Kwong Tze Ming, Chung Chi Lam, Cheung Lan Chow, Wong Chung Hin, Chan Chung Chi, Tang Chi Cheong, Wong Hing San, Wong Mow Lum, Chan Kim Tong, Kan Yiu Chor, Lam Wan Lap, Kwai Wan Pak, Chan Tat Sam, Yue Chuek Sang, Dr. Lee Ping Sum and many representatives of various business associations and guilds.

AGENTS WANTED

After the accounts had been passed in the usual manner, the Secretary told the meeting that during the last month, the Chamber had received many letters from the different firms and manufacturers in Germany, New York and Spain applying for recommendations for reliable, local Chinese agents and representatives for their products. He added that replies to the above mentioned requests had already been sent.

During the meeting Mr. Tang Chi Cheong was appointed by the Executive Committee as auditor to audit the Chamber's accounts for the current year.

As the Chamber has already been registered as a "Limited Company," Mr. Wong Kwong Tin proposed that from now on the Chamber should use copper or steel seals and chops on all matters. The proposal was unanimously agreed to by the Executive Committee.

NEW LIBRARY STAFF

Owing to the resigning of the old staff of the Chamber's Library, it was decided to appoint several new officers to take their places, and Mr. Cheung Ian Chow and eleven other members were accordingly appointed as the Chamber's new Library staff.

Referring to the letter sent to the Chamber by the Colonial Secretary informing them that a Trade Investigating Party of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce would be visiting Hong Kong in October this year, it was decided that a sum of $500 should be raised for the purpose of giving a suitable reception when welcoming that party on its arrival.

At the meeting, it was also decided that for the convenience of those members, the next monthly meeting would be held at 2.30 p.m. instead of 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

ARCHBISHOP OF YORK

At Kitchenmaid's Wedding

It's all topsy-turvy in this little village. An Archbishop's wife has acted as fairy godmother to her kitchenmaid.

In the royal bedroom of the Archbishop of York's palace here the kitchenmaid adorned herself in white satin for her wedding. And the Archbishop, Dr. William Temple, and Mrs. Temple were guests in their own palace at a feast in which the kitchenmaid and her shoemaker husband had the place of honour.

PLANNED SURPRISE

Dorothy Hawthorn Shaw had been their kitchenmaid for four years, and for three of them had been courted by George Henry Wilson, a York shoemaker. Then came the day arranged for the wedding.

Mrs. Temple heard of it and, of course, Dr. Temple. They planned a surprise for Dorothy. The Archbishop should perform the marriage ceremony in the village church, flowers from the palace greenhouse should decorate the building.

Friends of Dorothy and her husband should go to the palace for the reception, and Dr. and Mrs. Temple should for this one day sit any rate as guests in their own home.

And so it was.

CHINESE ART IN EUROPE

Master Painter Talks Of Tour

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright)]

Shanghai, June 27.

Mr. Liu Hai-Su, internationally known master-painter and scholar, returned here the day before yesterday, having been commissioned in 1933 by the National Government to conduct a series of modern Chinese art exhibitions in the leading European countries. He brought to the West a comprehensive collection of representative masterpieces of contemporary Chinese painters and calligraphists, which have been successfully exhibited, since the beginning of 1934, in Berlin, Hamburg, Dusseldorf, The Hague, Amsterdam, Geneva, Berne, Paris, London, Prague, and Warsaw. Everywhere the exhibition has won enthusiastic praise.

FIRST SHOW

The first exhibition, which was held in Berlin by special arrangement between the German government authorities and Mr. Liu on the occasion of his previous visit to that country, went off with such success that international interest in Chinese modern art was aroused. As a result Mr. Liu received a flood of invitations to show the collection in various countries which had not entered into his original plans.

Speaking at a reception yesterday afternoon, given in his honour by various local art organizations and the faculty and students of the Shanghai College of Fine Arts, Mr. Liu said that there is a marked growing interest among people of the West in Chinese art. The general public showed keen appreciation, he continued. Before the organization of these exhibitions Mr. Liu observed, modern Oriental art was represented by a Japanese monopoly, while Chinese art was entirely ignored in this respect. However, it is highly gratifying to note that the West has now turned with unprecedented interest in the Chinese art of to-day, as evidenced by the overwhelming enthusiasm shown by the hundreds of thousands of visitors who flocked to the exhibitions conducted by him.

YOUNG WOMEN'S DEATH

Half Caused By T.B.

Tuberculosis accounts for 50 per cent. of all the deaths of young women, stated Dr. W. Santon Gilmour, medical superintendent of the annual congress at Harrogate of the Royal Institute of Public Health and Institute of Hygiene.

Dealing with the increase of tuberculosis in the young women of the community Dr. Gilmour added that at about the marriage age the tuberculosis figures among young women tended to fall off, which would seem to show that the stress of being a housewife was not so adverse as that of being in industry.

Dr. N. Tattersall, of Leeds, said that whenever the subject of tuberculosis among young women arose one invariably got people talking about the evils of slimming, dancing, and cocktails; but while there was no doubt that there were women who had stunted themselves into tuberculosis, slimming, dancing, and cocktails affected only such a small proportion of women that they could not affect the figures of the country as a whole.

WOMEN THE WEAKER SEX

"There is no doubt," he added, "that women are the weaker sex. They may swim the Channel and fly to Australia, but their physical make-up is such that they cannot stand the strain and stress of industrial life as well as the men can."

Sir Pendrill Varrier-Jones, medical director of Papworth Village Settlement, said that tuberculosis was killing every year four or five times as many people as were being killed in road accidents.

Miss F. O. Riordan, of Camberwell, London, urged that, to assist the working man to obtain early diagnosis the large general hospitals should remain open to out-patients on one or two evenings a week.

At present, she said, they were only open during the daytime, when it was impossible for workers to attend.

MR. GEORGE BERNARD SHAW

It is nice to come home on such a delightful June morning, was the comment of Mr. George Bernard Shaw when he landed in pouring rain from the Union Castle liner Winchester Castle at Southampton. He was returning from a three months' visit to South Africa. Asked how he had occupied his time Mr. Shaw replied: "I have done a lot of writing; that is what I made the voyage for. I have written two new plays since I have been away. In addition, I have done a number of prefaces and other things."

When Mr. Shaw last returned from the Cape he made some pointed comments on the situation there, but this time he refused to make any statement on the subject.

CANTON NEWS IN BRIEF

Naval Cadets Return

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, July 2.

The 25 cadets of the Whampoa Naval Academy returned to their studies to-day after passing through hectic experience aboard the cruisers Hal Chi and Hal Shen. They happened to be aboard the two cruisers for training purposes when they weighed anchor and escaped to Hong Kong. These cadets decline to go to Foochow to join the Mamot Naval Academy.

Local papers reported that the cadets returned here last Thursday but in fact they came back on Sunday morning. None of the cadets wants to go with the cruisers to the North, as they do not want to interrupt their studies here. Reports that 50 cadets left the cruisers on June 23 and that 50 more were on board are unfounded. Admiral Chen Chak, formerly commandant of the Canton Flotilla, will reach Hong Kong to-day to take the two cruisers to Shanghai.

Col. Kita Leaves

Colonel Seichi Kita, Chief of the Chinese Section of the Japanese Army General Staff, has left here for the North after staying two days in Canton and four days in Nanning, provincial capital of Kwangsi. Officially it is said that he went to Kwangsi for sight-seeing, but it is understood that he had other motives in going to Nanning, where he interviewed General Pai Hsing Hsi, Second-in-Command of the Fourth Group Army, and General Huang Hsu Chu, Chairman of the Kwangsi Provincial Government.

Besides Colonel Kita, other Japanese who visited Kwangsi during the past five months included Major-General Kenji Dohara, Lieut.-General Yoshimichi Suzuki and Mr. Taduo Matsumoto. All declared that they came to Canton and Nanning to see things on the spot.

Teachers Pay

Teachers in the various municipal schools, who have not received any salaries since March are agitating for payment from April to June before the summer vacation. They went to see the Mayor at the City Government, but they were received only by a sectional head.

Through the sectional head, the teachers were promised to have one-half of their salaries for April to be paid before the summer holidays. The balance will be paid during the vacation. As many teachers cannot wait so long, they are looking for other openings.

pointed comments on the situation there, but this time he refused to make any statement on the subject.

TEN KILLED

Explosion In Factory

Shanghai, June 29.

Heralded by a sheet of flame that was visible all over Shanghai, an explosion in the China Celluloid Factory in Ferry Road last night took the lives of ten Chinese and injured more than double that number, who were either workers in the factory or occupants of houses near by. The actual extent of the damage could not be estimated last night, but two rows of single-storey brick houses were completely gutted, and a large portion of the factory was ruined by the fire which rapidly spread.

The cause of the explosion has not yet been discovered, but shortly after 8.30 p.m. the whole sky was lit up by a brilliant flash. Flames quickly sprang up in the factory, which is situated in Ferry Road just before the intersection of Ichang Road, and spread to the Chinese-style houses to the east.

An instance of the rapidity with which the flames gained a foothold was afforded by the discovery later of a little Chinese baby, burned alive in its cot, where it was left when its parents rushed out, stunned and bewildered. Seven fire-engines, from the Ichang Road and Sinza stations, turned out, and had the fire under control within half an hour, although portions of the ruins were still smoking an hour or so later.

REMOVING THE CASUALTIES

The task of removing the dead and injured was hampered at first by a crowd of several thousands who quickly gathered, but a strong squad of police, hastily summoned to the spot, soon had the mob under control, and the first-aid men were able to carry out their work with greater ease. One man was arrested for obstructing the police and for hitting an officer.

Over half a dozen were killed almost immediately when the explosion occurred, while another two died on the pavement despite first-aid treatment, hastily rendered. Some twenty calls back and forth were made by four ambulances. Of the injured, by far the greater proportion were suffering from severe burns—one man's whole chest was a mass of blisters and burned flesh—or shock.

Owing to the fact that hospitals in the vicinity were unable to take care of such a large number of casualties, by far the greater number had to be taken to St. Luke's Hospital in Seward Road, the ambulances then making the journey all the way back to the scene of the fire again for a fresh load.

Up to a late hour last night, the casualty list totalled 30 dead and injured, with the possibility of further dead being discovered as the work of examining the ruins proceeded during the night. A large number of Chinese also were treated for minor burns and shock.

Although most of the injured were men, the list also included women and a number of little children. One little boy, his back badly burned as he was snatched from the flames by his mother, bravely kept a stiff upper lip, although the pain he was suffering as he waited his turn for first-aid treatment and removal to hospital must have been intense.

In addition to the ambulances taking care of the wounded, the mortuary van turned out to convey the dead to the morgue, while the rescue van, with smoke-helmets and carbide lamps, rendered valuable assistance.

VISIBLE AT HONGKOW PARK

According to a reader living just beyond Hongkew Park, he was sitting in his garden when he suddenly noticed the whole sky light up for a period of over a minute, to be replaced by an ink blackness. He ascribed it to some meteorological phenomenon, but his daughter, who was looking out of a top-storey window, excitedly called out that she had seen a huge flash shoot high into the air, followed by flames and smoke.

FIRE AT ELBAROIDERIES

Earlier in the evening, at approximately 6.30 p.m., Central Fire Station, turned out to a small fire in the Elbaroideries storeroom, just behind the "Chocolate Shop." The actual fire and the extent of the damage were small, but due to the fact that it was necessary to break into the storeroom to get at the flames, and because of the almost ceiling smoke, the rescue van, with its special equipment, had to be summoned. After entering the entrance of the storeroom, the fire was quickly extinguished.

HONG KONG, JULY 4, 1935.

LINKS AND FETTERS.

In the Dominions' the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council is a Court of Appeal that is greatly valued as standing high above local passions and partialities though it is ill-equipped for a conflict with a Government for a Court without a Sheriff is like a gun without a bullet, and the plain fact is that its writ does not run in the Irish Free State. It is not surprising, therefore, that it has brought an end to this long unequal struggle by the surrender of all claim to jurisdiction. The case nevertheless touches us since it concerns a safeguard upon which the Irish Loyalists were told they could rely when the British Government beat its retreat from Dublin Castle. It will be remembered that the right of appeal to the Privy Council was not mentioned in the Irish "Treaty" though it was held to be implicit therein, the reason being that the Irish Free State were put in the same position as Canada where this right existed. Even in the case of Canada, however, there was some dispute for the Dominion sought to dispute the appeal in criminal cases. What was really important, however, was the right of appeal in cases involving the Constitution, and it was upon this that the British Government insisted.

Thus the onus of protecting certain rights of the subject were thrown by the British Government upon the Judicial Committee. Unfortunately, however, the Committee was not endowed with powers to enforce its judgments with the result that both Mr. Cosgrave and Mr. de Valera have defied the Court with impunity. The former refused to pay a penny of the compensation awarded to the Civil Servants by the Privy Council and when the Committee gave a judgment, the Dail promptly passed an Act annulling it. That, however, was not all for the climax came when, on November 15, 1933, an Act was passed to the effect that no appeals should lie to his Majesty in Council from any Irish Free State Court. A judgment delivered recently which nominally concerned an appeal in a very important fishery case might serve to illustrate the procedure now followed in any Irish Free State Court. The petitioners, it might be related here, had been in undisputed possession of fishing rights in the estuary of the Erne for over 300 years. The Supreme Court, however, ruled that the original grant, coming as it did from the Crown, was invalid, and went back to the laws of the Boreahons who denied all ownership in fisheries. There is no doubt that as a result of this, indiscriminate fishing will ruin the Erne, as well as the other fisheries of the West but that is beside the point. What does matter is that the law of 1933 was passed while the case was pending, and the Judicial Committee were, therefore, confronted with the additional task of having to decide as to whether or no that law was valid, or in other words whether the right to appeal any longer existed.

This brought the law to a consideration of the Statute of Westminster, which enabled the Dominions to pass laws repugnant to the law of England. Colonel Gretton and some others protested at the time, that the Statute in question was nothing more than a device to make an end of the safeguards in the Irish Constitution, but the Minister in charge produced a letter from Mr. Cosgrave which proved to be a sufficient answer. The fact remains that their forebodings are now confirmed by this judgment of the Privy Council. The Statute, in view of the Judicial Committee, gives the Free State Parliament to revoke any part or whole of the Irish Constitution, and thus all

DIAMOND SMUGGLING CHARGES

British Subjects Involved In Shanghai

Shanghai, June 28. Charges of diamond smuggling—to quote the wording of the charges, importing diamonds into Shanghai on divers occasions up to June 17, 1935, with intent of evading duty payable to the Chinese Government—were levelled against two British subjects, Mr. H. M. Gregory and Mr. F. R. Gabbott, and implicated a third, Mr. J. B. Ipekjdian, in H.M. Police Court, yesterday, when evidence of the seizure of a quantity of diamonds, worth, it is believed, several lakhs of dollars, was heard by the Registrar, Mr. C. H. Haines.

Mr. H. M. Gregory is manager of a business with which Mr. Ipekjdian is also connected. Mr. Gabbott is an importer. He is represented by Mr. John McNeill, who, at yesterday's hearing, strongly denied that his client had any connection at all with "this particular company," referring to the China Diamond Cutting Works.

BAIL GRANTED

The charges against the two accused were brought by the Chinese Maritime Customs, represented yesterday by Mr. R. R. de Llesching, one of their officials. After hearing the evidence of Det. Sub-Inspr. H. C. Glover, who stated that the diamonds were seized by Customs officers under his supervision, the Registrar adjourned the hearing until Friday. The two accused were granted bail on two sureties each, one of £20 in their own recognisance, and a further one of £20. The Registrar also mentioned that it was desirable the Customs should be represented by counsel.

Mr. McNeill said his client was in no way connected with the China Diamond Cutting Works and asked if Mr. Llesching could speak to that effect. Mr. Llesching replied that he was not in a position to do so at the moment. "My instructions are," Mr. McNeill said, after mentioning the detrimental effect a charge of this nature was bound to have against Mr. Gabbott, "that my client has had no connection at all with this particular diamond company and therefore the chances are no evidence can be offered against him in that connection. My client has had no connection with diamonds or diamond cutting. My client is an importer of nearly everything else except diamonds."

RAID DESCRIBED

A graphic description of the raid and seizure of the diamonds was given by Det. Sub-Inspr. Glover, who said:—"At about 11 a.m. on June 24, I was handed this search warrant by the Marshal of the court. At about 2.30 p.m., it was counter-signed by the Consul-General for France. At about 3.40 p.m., with the assistance of the French, Police, and accompanied by representatives of the Chinese Maritime Customs, I raided premises situated on the fourth floor of a building, 3 Rue Laguerre. At the time of entry none of the persons mentioned on the search warrant was present. At about 4.20 p.m., whilst I was waiting on the third floor at the top of the stairs, I saw the two defendants, whom I was told were Mr. Gregory and Mr. Gabbott.

"I spoke to Mr. Gabbott and he admitted his identity and, being shown the warrant, he stated some mistake had been made, as he was in no way connected with the China Diamond Cutting Works. I then saw Mr. Gregory. He, on being shown the warrant, stated that he was acting as manager in the business of Mr. Ipekjdian. I requested these two gentlemen to accompany me to the fourth floor. In order to search the safes, I requested the production of the keys. Mr. Gregory said that he would like to communicate with his legal adviser. He was permitted to do so, and communicated with Mr. Reeks.

"On the attendance of Mr. Reeks, the keys were produced by Mr. Gregory and the safe, situated in the office on the east side of the building, was searched by Customs officers.

"You were supposed to search?" the Registrar said.

"Yes, sir," the witness replied. "I sat there and watched."

"Under your supervision?" asked the Registrar.

"Yes, sir," came the reply.

DIAMONDS FOUND

Continuing, witness said:—"A large quantity of diamonds were found in this safe. Another safe situated in an adjacent office was also searched, but only very few stones, which were in the process of being cut, were found therein. The safe in Mr. Gregory's office was later searched, but nothing was found—nothing of the nature of that mentioned in the search warrant. The diamonds were locked up in the safe and the key temporarily retained.

"A guard of detectives was left on the premises, whilst myself, Mr. Llesching of the Customs, and the two defendants, proceeded to H. B. M. Consulate, where securities for their appearance before H. M. Police Court during the morning of June 25 were given. Accompanied by the two defendants and Customs officers, I then returned to 3 Rue Laguerre, where the diamonds were placed in a receptacle and sealed by the defendants, the Customs, and the Police. The package was then taken to Central Police Station, where it was retained overnight."

Cross-examined by Mr. Reeks, Insp. Glover said the search was conducted by Customs officers under his supervision. He admitted that, during the search, he left the room on several occasions.

Counsel: Now, you were told to search for a quantity of diamonds which had been smuggled?—Yes.

Did you find any diamonds which had been smuggled?—I am not in a position to say that.

The package of diamonds was sealed, witness said, under his supervision by the Police, Customs, and the defendants. He did not "large the defendants; he showed them the search warrant and explained his position.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

Asked by Mr. McNeill in cross-examination whether, when he first saw Mr. Gabbott, it was as Mr. Gabbott was coming from the direction of an office on the third floor, witness replied that he saw Mr. Gabbott with Mr. Gregory just coming from the fourth floor. Mr. Gabbott was in the act of passing when witness addressed him.

Counsel: You told us that these diamonds were sealed by the defendants, Customs, and Police. I put it to you that Mr. Gabbott took no part in the sealing of the package?—That is correct.

Counsel brought out that the real of the China Diamond Cutting Works was placed on the package by a Chinese clerk.

Counsel: Am I not correct when I say that Mr. Gabbott did not instruct that clerk to place the seal on the parcel?—Not Mr. Gabbott, no.

Mr. Reeks asked for the immediate release of some of the diamonds seized, worth, he said, about $300,000, which were the property of the Netherlands firm, Langkats, and on which he could bring proof duty had been paid.

The Registrar replied that he would require the necessary proof and in the meantime he proposed to have the diamonds listed.

Mr. McNeill and Mr. Reeks both asked that the cases against the two accused should be heard separately.

ARMED ROBBERY LAST YEAR

Suspect Under Arrest

The sequel to a daring armed robbery perpetrated by two men as far back as October 24 last year, in which the Man On Pawnshop of No. 178 Tsun Wan Road was victimised, was the apprehension of one of the suspects.

It will be recalled that two men entered the establishment at the close of business and threatened the inmates with revolvers and after binding and gagging them they stole money, jewellery and clothing to the total value of $2,800, before becoming.

One of the two men was known to the victims and the man arrested yesterday is alleged to be Chung Fal, age between 25 and 26 years. The apprehended man will come up to-day before a Magistrate.

The American Consul and the American community will be at Home to their friends at the American Club from 12 noon to 1 p.m. to-day in honour of the National Independence Day of the United States of America.

CRUISER IN COLONY

Canton Vessel's Mission

There were many conjectures abroad in Hong Kong during the last few days regarding the presence of the Chinese cruiser, Hai Fu which arrived here on Monday last from Canton.

The possibility of her mission to transfer the armaments on board the cruisers Hai Shen and Hai Chi prior to their departure to Shanghai was dispelled by the Commander of the cruiser, Lt. Comdr. Pun Wing Hee, when seen by a representative of the "Daily Press" yesterday.

The officer stated that no such objects were in view when he received orders to come down to Hong Kong, and his mission so far as his orders go was to receive delivery of a consignment of aeroplanes bought by the Canton Government from foreign firms and which are now being stored in Hong Kong.

It was also stated by the officer that as soon as delivery is effected the cruiser will sail for Canton.

"UNCLE CHAK"

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, July 3.

The name of Vice-Admiral Chen Chak is to-day published in all the Chinese newspapers in connection with his arrival in Hong Kong to-morrow to take the cruisers Hai Chi and Hai Shen to Shanghai. These two warships will be placed under the command of Vice-Admiral Chen Chak, who because of his lack of official department is affectionately known here as "Uncle Chak."

Until to-day press censors kept out the name of Vice-Admiral Chen Chak who is not well liked in official circles here. The admiral was formerly Commander-in-Chief of the Fourth Naval Squadron here consisting of the gunboat Chungshan and destroyer Hai Ying and about twenty river gunboats. He was ousted here by the military authorities, and since then "Uncle Chak" has been Chief of the Naval Department of the Military Affairs Commission. As his present post is purely sinecure and nominal, Admiral Chen will form a new squadron with the Hai Chi, Hai-shen, Chungshan and one or two other gunboats.

VICE-ADMIRAL CHEN AT WOOSUNG

Shanghai, July 3.

Vice-Admiral Chen Chi Liang, who is Vice-Minister of the Chinese Navy, has arrived at Woosung aboard the cruiser Ning Hai from Hong Kong. He is awaiting instructions from the Navy Ministry before proceeding to Nanking.

THE PEIPING REVOLT

More Arrests And Executions

Peiping, July 3.

The police and military are actively pursuing scattered remnants of the rebels in last Friday's attack on Peiping.

Last night eight more plainclothes men suspected of participation in the revolt, were arrested in the neighbourhood of Tungchow, and they arrived in Peiping in the afternoon. They will bring the total arrests so far to 117. All these men are undergoing examination at the headquarters of the Peiping garrison.

It is learned that five executions have already taken place, though the authorities are not releasing any news in this connection. It is gathered that four men were executed at the garrison headquarters yesterday and this morning. Lieut. Chia Yen, one of the officers aboard the armoured train which bombarded Peiping, was executed at dawn this morning.

Reports are current that Tuan Chun Chih, commander of the armoured train, was executed yesterday, but this is officially denied to Reuter by a high official of the Military Council.

Sentence of one month's hard labour was passed upon Li Ping, 56, unemployed, when he appeared before Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday and pleaded guilty to the theft of two brown shoes from the Bata Shoe Company, at No. 60, Nam Cheong Street. Inspector Portallion, prosecuting, said defendant was seen by a Chinese constable at 3.10 p.m. yesterday, and the shoes were found under his jacket. The man took the constable to No. 60, Nam Cheong Street, where he admitted stealing them. Tam Shing Hing, the manager of the shop appeared as complainant.

FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN EX-SERVICEMEN

Resolutions At Joint Meeting

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, July 3, 4.30 p.m.)

Paris, July 3.
An impressive appeal for international co-operation and friendship was made by delegates of the international ex-servicemen's organisations who, after a joint meeting which lasted two days, adopted the following resolution on Tuesday evening:—

The delegates of ex-servicemen's organisations of eleven countries allied or associated during the World War as well as delegates of the German war veterans—representing altogether sixteen million former front fighters—agreed on the following decisions:

(1) That ex-servicemen of all countries are passionately devoted to peace. They declare that all persons agitating for war are enemies and not friends of their peoples. Ex-servicemen aim to create confidence between peoples principally by means of moral disarmament.

(2) Since respect for agreements forms the foundation of international relations, mutual confidence can only be maintained if international agreements and obligations arising therefrom are mutually and sincerely observed.

(3) Ex-servicemen desire security for their countries and hold the view that once this security is assured the actual limitation of armaments should constitute the indispensable basis of lasting peace.

(4) Since war should not be regarded as a means of settling disputes between nations, ex-servicemen declare that in case the existing agreements do not offer a favourable solution, pending points at issue should be submitted to a court of arbitration, whose decisions should be binding.

(5) In order to create an atmosphere necessary for carrying out these ideas, the ex-servicemen of former warring countries resolve to remain in close contact. They will make every effort to reach a mutual understanding and to take an unbiased view of the aims of their various countries. They will endeavour to take joint measures in order to combat the circulation of false reports calculated to create misunderstandings and prejudice their joint activities. They will moreover take good care to educate the coming generations in the spirit of peace and justice, and teach them that respect in which ex-soldiers hold each other should serve as an example and as a basis of their relations.—

CESSION OF TERRITORY TO ABYSSINIA

British Plan Criticised In France

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, July 3, 4.30 p.m.)

Paris, July 3.
The British proposal to give Abyssinia access to the sea by cession of a strip of territory in British Somaliland is received with some indignation here. The view expressed in semi-official quarters is that since the French port of Djibuti through which the entire Abyssinian goods traffic is now passing would be directly affected as the port of Sella whose session Britain is offering is in closest proximity to the former, the French government should have been consulted or at least previously informed of the intended step by the British government, particularly in view of the fact that the treaty concluded between Italy and France in 1906 contains a clause of protecting French interest against the creation of competitive traffic routes.

Although the British Government professes to adhere to the Anglo-French declaration of February 3, and Stressa resolution, its acts of late fall to reveal any traces of this solemnly announced British, French and Italian solidarity, declares the semi-official "Petite Parisien".

Does London not comprehend that such methods as applied in the case of the Anglo-German naval agreement and the now proposed creation of the "Abyssinian Corridor" must have an unpleasant effect not only on British, French and Italian solidarity but also on the system of collective security which Britain as well as France are trying to create within the framework of the League of Nations? asks the paper.

The "Ordre" charges the British Government with considering only its own interests. England is now only anxious to settle the Italo-Abyssinian conflict, asserts the paper, which declares that the British Government is trying to drive a wedge between France and Italy in order to isolate Italy, although this would result in France's isolation as well.—

ABYSSINIAN PROBLEM

Italy's Refusal Of Peace Formula

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press") (Copyright.)

Rome, July 2.
A somewhat less restraint in the discussion of the British Government's proposal for settlement of the Abyssinian dispute is now shown by political circles in the press, since Mr. Eden's House of Commons statement.

The British offer has been refused it is declared, since it neither fulfilled Great Britain's object nor satisfied Italy.

The reason why, according to the Italian standpoint is explained by the semi-official "Giornale d'Italia" which asserts that Mr. Anthony Eden failed to make it clear, the practical value of his proposal or the possibility of putting it into effect.

It obviously contained no provisions for securing peace at the frontier, on the contrary Abyssinia remained unpunished for the incidents which took place and had even been encouraged to new treaty infringements. Conflict between the two countries would not thereby be eliminated—only postponed.

Abyssinia would be the gainer by the cession of the Port of Zella which had enabled her to obtain munitions unrestrictedly.—

Rome, July 2.
Striking evidence of the advanced stage of Italy's military preparations against Abyssinia was afforded by the publication of a statement here that she now possesses 60 aerodromes and 50 radio stations in her East African colonies, which in addition are intersected by a system of roads 10,000 kilometers in length.—

GREYNA GREEN MARRIAGES

Validity Raised In Court

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, July 3, 7.30 p.m.)

London, July 3.

Greytna Green was once again in the limelight when the courts were asked to try a test case to decide whether such marriages, though now in themselves declared to be illegal, are after all valid if the formalities are complied with.

A young man who visited the celebrated forge with a friend after the couple had spent a convivial evening together agreed to go through the customary ceremony as performed for hundreds of years past.

On Tuesday the newly-wedded man in asking the Edinburgh court to declare the marriage null and void declared solemnly that he thought the whole affair was merely "a bit of fun."

The judge asked how it happened that the young man afterwards signed the necessary civil documents, to which he replied that he did not know what he was doing as after the previous festivities "he was three seas over."

In summing up the case the judge denounced him in the strongest terms as "a public nuisance" of Greytna Green, adding that in the present case the documentary formalities were not even completed by the smithy himself. Such a state of affairs was "highly mischievous" and nevertheless, according to Scotch law, the marriage was perfectly valid and not cancellable.—

SPINNING MILL PROVISIONS

Board Empowered To Borrow

London, July 3.
The Cotton Spinning Bill provides for the surplus plant acquired by the Spindles Board not to be sold for export. The board is empowered to borrow money to meet the cost of purchases up to a total of £2,000,000. Interest on the loan and provision for repayment will be met from the levy paid for fifteen years by the owner of every cotton mill in Great Britain containing spinning machinery.

The rate of levy is equivalent to one and one-sixth pence per spindle per annum. Any owner undertaking not to use a mill during the first five-years of the scheme may claim exemption from the levy, but the total spindles exempted must not exceed a million.

Any new plant will be subject to back levy from the beginning of the scheme, but during first three years of the scheme no new plant may be established unless acquired from the Board and equivalent plant surrendered or broken up.—

GREAT GAME AT WIMBLEDON

Von Cramm Defeats Donald Budge

London, July 3.
Donald Budge, the young American threat who conquered "Bunny" Austin in the quarter-final, ended his career and his Wimbledon singles championship hopes when von Cramm of Germany beat him in a four-set game, the scores being 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

The centre court was crammed with 17,000 spectators and the gates were closed as the court was full. The first games went with the service until 3-3 was called. Budge, serving cannon balls and delightful backhanders took the first set at 6-4. This set lasted twenty three minutes and all the time both were driving so superbly that there was no opportunity for either to approach the net.

In the second set von Cramm led 4-2, but Budge levelled the score at 4-4 with brilliant volleying, and therefore the German player took the next two games.

The American started with a lead of 2-1 in the third set, but the German increased pressure, making magnificent returns of the American's cannon ball drives. After 3-3 was called von Cramm did not relax pressure and he took the set at 6-3.

The fourth set which was taken by the German player at 6-2 was one of the best in the semi-finals since the War and there were long duels in which the German player always came off with flying colours.

Her Majesty the Queen was one of the interested spectators of the great match.

PERRY WINS

Fred Perry, the title holder, qualified to meet von Cramm in the final by eliminating Jack Crawford of Australia in the other semi-final.

The champion won a great game going to four sets, the second of which was secured by the Australian, but Perry took the remaining sets, fighting against strong opposition.

The scores in favour of Perry were 5-2, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

MIXED DOUBLES

In the third round of the mixed doubles, Nishimura and Miss Nost defeated Marcel Bernard and Mde. Alvarez 6-2, 6-2.

LADIES' SUCCESSES

In the women's quarter-finals, Mde. Mathlen and Mrs. Sperling beat Miss Harvey and Miss Joan Ingram 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Mrs. Meulmeester (nee Elgart) and Miss Howard beat Miss Joan Harigan and Miss Hopman of Australia 6-1, 6-3.

In the third round Miss Kathleen Stammers and Miss Freda James beat Miss Healey and Miss Dorothy Round 6-3, 6-4.—

FLOOD FEARS IN HANKOW

Water Level At 46 Feet

Hankow, July 3.
While not committing himself, the River Inspector considers that a flood is very unlikely providing there is good weather. Although already there has been a fall of eighteen inches of rain this year compared to five and half inches in the 1931 flood year, it has fallen at a time when the river was able to absorb, but further heavy rain is liable to prove very dangerous.

The water level at present is 46 feet and if it reaches 47 feet it will overlap the bund in three places, but this is only alarming inasmuch as the Concessions are below bund level and would necessitate locking up the sewerage openings throughout the city.

After having risen 26 feet in two days, Chungking has now fallen to 11.2 feet. Ichang, Shashi and Hankow should follow Chungking.

The latest advices from Changsha are that the water is now falling.—
Reuter.

SAFETY MEASURES

Hankow, July 3.
An important meeting of the Flood Prevention Committee has decided to enlist further labour for the safeguarding of the country against inundation.

The Hankow Municipal Government, according to a Chinese report, has decided to divide the area under its control into four sections, each with its own flood prevention office.

The dykes near the city are in several places in a serious condition and coolies have been despatched to strengthen them.—

HOLIDAY UNIFORMS FOR MINERS

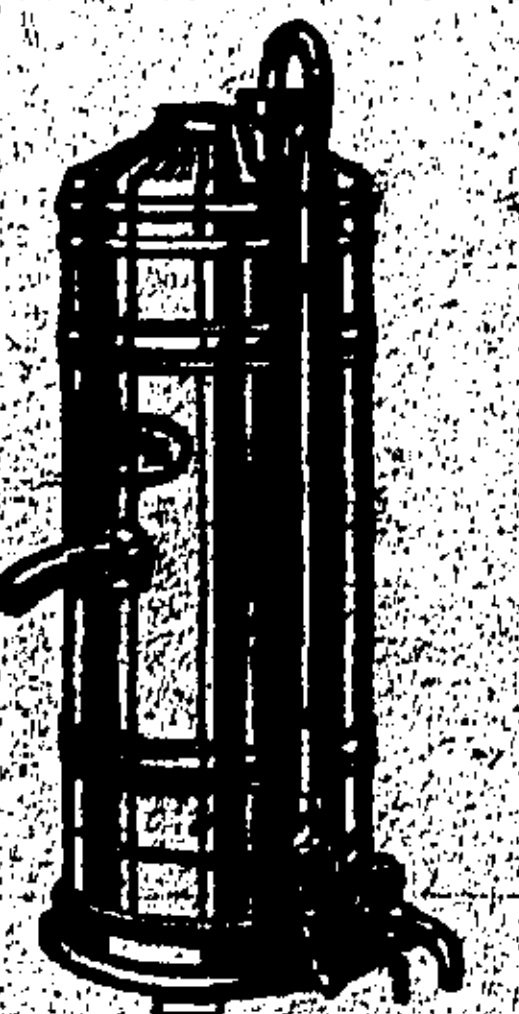

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, July 3, 4.30 p.m.)

Breslau, July 3.

An order for five thousand holiday uniforms for miners to the total value of one hundred and twenty five marks has been placed with the master tailors guild by the management of the Prussian state mines which decided to replace the traditional miners' garb and attire with a different jacket formerly worn by the employees of the state mines. Every miner can have a jacket at an approximate cost of twenty five marks by his tailor who will deliver it together with a bill to the management which will settle the latter and hand the jacket to the employee. The amount advanced for the festive apparel will then be deducted in instalments from the wearer's wages.—

TENNIS AT WIMBLEDON

Interesting Broadcast Talk

Mr. Dennis H. Hazell gave an interesting broadcast talk last evening, his subject being "Tennis At Wimbledon."

Possibly many listeners have not appreciated the subtle difference in the title of the Championships at Wimbledon when compared with the International Tennis Championships played in other countries. At Wimbledon they are called the Championships. Elsewhere they are reported as the French or the American Championships, or of whatever country in which they are played.

Associations are everything and we in England are justly proud of the fact that when it was suggested that the Tennis Championships at Wimbledon, usually acknowledged to be the World's Tennis Championships, should be played in another country, the Lawn Tennis Association and most of the players of that particular country emphatically turned down the suggestion, stating there would not be the same feeling about the Tennis Meeting if it was moved from Wimbledon which had been the centre of Tennis for so long.

In this connection Mrs. Willis Moody's remarks to Mr. W. F. Sanders when she arrived the other day at Plymouth, and was asked for her Tennis plans in England, are of interest, she replied:—

"If you insist on a reason why I have travelled something like 4,000 miles to play at Wimbledon, I can only tell you that I would rather play there than anywhere else in the world. I do not know what I shall do afterwards, whether I win or lose. At the moment, all I am interested in, is again playing on the Centre Court."

J. H. Crawford of Australia considers the great attraction and success of the Championships at Wimbledon is because the meeting is played on grass. He considers that if they ever turned the Centre Court into a hard Court, it just would not be Wimbledon. Crawford definitely goes as far as to state: "It is the World's best Tournament and one could not imagine it played on anything but Turf. There is something in the atmosphere at Wimbledon," and Crawford considers this "something" owes much to the beautiful turf and the green hedges used as back-screens for the outer Courts, besides the general verdant surroundings.

The English Lawn Tennis Association and the Wimbledon Officials have since added endless improvements at Wimbledon for the benefit of both the public and the players, and I think it can safely be said that nowhere else in the world is Tennis played and watched under such perfect conditions.

THE CENTRE COURT

The ambition of every keen Tennis player is to play at Wimbledon, whatever his or her nationality may be, quite irrespective of the fact that Tennis Championships are held in his or her own country, and the height of that Tennis ambition is to play on the coveted Centre Court.

Let us visit the Centre Court at Wimbledon—We see a Microphone immediately in front of the Umpire's chair and loud speakers at very frequent intervals above the covered seats overlooking the Centre Court which permit the score to be heard with ease and comfort by every one of the 17,000 interested watchers. Electric score boards at either end of the Court and one outside as well, keep everybody informed as to the score of the particular game in progress, the number and result of the games and sets played with the names of the players, and which player is serving at the time. The next ultra-modern detail to meet our eye is a Refrigerator. A certain amount of derision was displayed by some people when this Refrigerator was installed behind the Umpire's chair. It, nevertheless serves two very useful purposes:—

1st.—A continual supply of cold drinks is available for the players.

2nd.—Fresh balls, given for every set, are at exactly the same temperature and condition.

This last, by the way, is quite an important point, and might well be remembered in local Tennis Championships.

How often have we seen or wondered, when playing ourselves, why it is more difficult to control those new balls in the beginning of the next set. Why did we lose the first few games or even the set after the "new balls" were used?

Balls which are usually placed under the Umpire's chair exposed to the sun, and inside a tin which attracts and keeps the heat, are a very different temperature, and therefore have an entirely different bounce from those in play during the previous set. Therefore local Tennis Secretaries should avoid placing the new tins of balls in the sun.

Seated in the Centre Court Stand, we look down on a beautifully cut and rolled turf like green velvet, which may be covered by special tarpaulins worked mechanically to completely protect it from rain during the Wimbledon fortnight.

THE ROYAL BOX

At the Southern end we see the Committee seats in a section railed off on its own and this is used by The King and Queen as well as visiting Royalty or other distinguished guests, viewing the game. Their Majesties often pay surprise visits when their duties permit and it is not an uncommon occurrence for Major Larcombe the Secretary of Wimbledon to receive his first notification of a surprise visit by telephone only half an hour or so before The Royal Visitors arrive. Their Majesties are most particular to enquire the state of the game and will wait out of sight on the steps of the entrance to the Committee Section until a game is finished, so that play may not be interrupted or the players put off their game whilst all stand to greet the arrival of Their Majesties.

On the left of the Committee Section is the section allocated to Members of the All England Lawn Tennis and Croquet Club now commonly known as Wimbledon, whilst on the right or South Eastern corner is the competitors section. The whole of the rest of the stand being open to the public.

As many as 30,000 people apply in February of each year for the 14,000 seats which may be purchased in advance, and these are usually supplied in books of 6 for the first or second week's play. All these seats are numbered and reserved and are well sheltered from the sun and rain by corrugated iron roofs.

RESERVED SEATS

The 2100 Wimbledon debenture shares stand at a premium being well over £300 each, and most difficult to obtain. No dividend is paid in cash, but books of tickets entitling the holder of each £100 debentures to 2 seats for the complete fortnight are supplied instead. To the interested Tennis enthusiast this is far preferable in view of the fact that usually £25,000 to £30,000 per annum is returned by the Wimbledon authorities to applicants for reserved tickets who have been unsuccessful in the ballot for the seats.

Two thousand reserved seats may be purchased daily whilst there is a certain amount of free standing room available. To see the whole of the accommodation packed to capacity, which is a usual occurrence for all "Needle" matches, is a sight to behold.

Second in importance to the Centre Court is naturally the No. 1 Court with seating accommodation for 2,900 people. Electric Score Boards have also recently been introduced in this Court, and like the Centre Court is duplicated outside above the official Umpire's room where it can be seen from almost everywhere in the grounds.

A wide asphalted promenade separates the Centre and No. 1 Courts from the other fifteen Courts which have seven feet high thick green hedges, forming a most comfortable back screen for the benefit of the players.

Naturally to play in the Championships requires much training and preparation—even for the players who may be playing regularly in Tournaments prior to the Wimbledon fortnight, because this is the only Tennis Championship in the world where no rest is allowed between sets. "Play Must Be Continuous," and this rule is rigidly adhered to.

Notices are displayed in large letters posted all over the dressing rooms and it is also stated on the entry form, "That the 10 minute rule does not apply to this meeting." This means there is no prolonged rest between the second and third sets for the Ladies who play the best of three sets, and between the third and fourth set for the Men, who, in both singles and doubles, play the best of five sets. If a player is temporarily too exhausted to continue then he or she has to scratch immediately, or 30 seconds to "change over" after

Three More Country Decisions

London, July 2.

Although Sinsfield scored a century for Gloucester, Somerset succeeded in gaining a single wicket victory on the last day of their fixture.

Derbyshire beat Notts by seven wickets and Warwickshire took first innings points from Leicester, Armstrong playing an unfinished 105 for the latter.

The following were the score details as cabled by Reuter:—

Somerset beat Gloucestershire by 1 wicket at Bath. Gloucester: 218 (Sinsfield 106, Wellard 5 for 39) and 126 (Andrews 6 for 39), Somerset: 244 and 101 for 9.

Derbyshire beat Notts by 7 wickets at Ilkeston. Notts: 205 and 233. Derby: 253 (Voce 5 for 87) and 188 for 3.

Warwickshire beat Leicestershire on the first innings at Birmingham. Warwick: 289 (Geary 5 for 60, Astill 5 for 56) and 151 (Marlow 5 for 38), Leicester: 178 (Paine 5 for 68) and 214 for 7 (Armstrong 135 not out).

Surrey beat Oxford University by 8 wickets at the Oval. Oxford: 324 (N. S. Mitchell-Innes 132 not out, Gover 5 for 95) and 292 (Seamer 113), Surrey: 455 (H. M. Garland Wells 103) and 184 for 2.

every odd game is the usual allowance, with not more than two minutes between sets. When I was at Wimbledon in 1930, Tilden played Borotra in the Semi-Final, and he several times complained to the Umpire that "Mr. Borotra was wasting time." After the first complaint the Umpire timed every change over.

In years gone by, it was understood that if a player had won an open Tennis Tournament approved by the Lawn Tennis Association of England or by one of its premier affiliations this provided the necessary qualification for inclusion in the 128 players for each section of the Tournament, but this does not apply now.

NOMINATED PLAYERS

Countries playing in the Davis Cup Competition up to 1932 had the right to nominate 4 players and certain countries more. The entries of those nominated players were accepted at Wimbledon without other qualification. If a player was not nominated by a country and had not won any open tournament, that player was required to play in the Kent Open Championships at Beckenham, which was and still is considered to be the first Dress Rehearsal for Wimbledon, and which generally has many of the foreign competitors playing in the Tournament acclimating themselves to English conditions. To win two rounds in this Tournament was usually considered sufficient, but in any case the player generally was wise enough to enter for the Queen's Club Tournament the following week, known as the second Dress Rehearsal for Wimbledon, and unless particularly unfortunate in meeting a seeded player, the same two rounds win was necessary.

If the Selection Committee were still doubtful then the player was selected to play in the official qualification rounds the week before Wimbledon.

Now the Selection Committee have other standards for selection of the 118 players. Almost every important Country has a ranking list, and many good players from other countries come over to play at Wimbledon who have not been officially nominated by the Lawn Tennis Association of their Country, yet, nevertheless, often carry a letter of recommendation as to their standard of play.

Such players usually arrive sufficiently far ahead of the Wimbledon fortnight to enable them to play in the various official weekly tournaments in England, thus enabling the Selection Committee to gauge the standard of their play against the well-known players, playing in that particular tournament.

I think it is generally known that 128 players in both singles and doubles—making 84 pairs in doubles—play at Wimbledon, 118 being selected leaving 10 places open for players successful in the qualifying rounds. Naturally the ambition of every player is to be in the selected 118.

THE ENTRY FORM

The Wimbledon Entry Form reads:—

"If the Selection Committee desire you to qualify please state whether you wish to enter the qualifying rounds in the South or in the North."

Giants Trounce Phillies

New York, July 2.

The two New York baseball teams are maintaining their leads in the major leagues and to-day both the Giants and Yankees won their fixtures.

The Giants beat the Phillies quite comfortably while the Yankees won from the Athletics by a slighter narrower margin.

The Tigers, in the American League, once again beat Cleveland Indians and are strengthening their position in second place to the Yankees.

Results of matches played to-day as cabled by Reuter follow:—

NATIONAL LEAGUE

R. H. E.
Philadelphia 4 3 2
New York 8 10 2
(Melvin Ott scored a home run for the Giants).

Boston 0 3 1
Brooklyn 5 8 0
(Benke pitched for the Dodgers).

Chicago 9 15 0
Cincinnati 3 7 2
(Hartnett and English each scored a home run for the Cubs).

Pittsburgh 0 3 4
St. Louis 7 11 1
(Joe Medwick scored a home run for the Cardinals and Hallahan blanked out the Pirates).

AMERICAN LEAGUE

R. H. E.
Washington 5 6 1
Boston 6 7 3
(Dahlgren, Miller and Werber scored home runs for the Red Sox).

New York 8 13 2
Philadelphia 5 10 0
(Lou Gehrig scored a home run for the Yankees).

Cleveland 3 7 0
Detroit 8 12 0
(Weinbauer and Campbell scored home runs for the Indians and Gehring for the Tigers).

The match between St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox was postponed on account of rain.

128 Players are always selected to play in the qualifying rounds in the South, but the number varies in the North, because so many Northern players prefer to play in London if they can spare the additional time.

The winning of a Championship in any Country or Colony is sufficient to ensure inclusion in the qualifying rounds, and a country sending a team to play in the Davis Cup Competition definitely ensures its nominated players being permitted to qualify if they are not considered sufficiently good to be included in the Competition proper.

Another point in the qualifying rounds, not usually known is that they are never played to a finish. Four rounds bring the 128 competitors in the South to eight players for eight out of the ten places—the Men's or Women's singles and when the last eight has been reached, play in that event ceases. Those fortunate eight are "In" and great satisfaction is justly felt. The odd 2 are supplied by the smaller Northern Competition finalists.

Besides playing in the Tournament this entitles fortunate competitors to the circular red badge—with their name printed across the white centre—which must be worn by all—even the top players—in a prominent position, and enables them to enter any of the Competitors Stands without let or hindrance at any time. There is always a number of seats allotted to competitors for every court, as well as the Centre Court.

In view of the very great difficulty in obtaining Centre Court seats, this is a tremendous asset to any interested person, and for an important match the Competitors stand is usually full.

The value of the dress rehearsal for Wimbledon has been noted by all in the unexpected defeat this year of Mrs. Willis Moody in the Kent Championships "Semi-Final." Admittedly Mrs. Willis Moody was not playing for some time, but she has been practicing hard for several months this year. The superiority of Miss Round the reigning Champion over Mrs. Willis Moody at that time was thus shown to the selectors who have the task of selecting the seeded players in order of seniority. Miss Stammers beat Mrs. Willis Moody 6-0, 6-1 only to be herself beaten by Miss Round 6-2, 6-0 in less than half an hour.

MILLER KEEPS THE TITLE

A Game Loser

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.

Remarkable scenes marked the world's boxing championship at the Stanley Greyhound Stadium, Liverpool, when Freddie Miller, America's South-Paw feather-weight, successfully defended his title against Neil Tarleton, of Liverpool. The decision was on points, writes a correspondent.

As the champion and his English challenger entered the arena 10,000 spectators in the cheap enclosure, more than fifty yards from the ring, broke through a strong cordon of police and rushed across the stadium.

Stewards were brushed aside, help's, and forced to retire before the rush. Within the space of a few moments the ring-side was swarming.

The surprising part of an astonishing exhibition of unporting behaviour was that the greater part of a flood of abuse was aimed at Tarleton.

HEROIC TARLETON

There seemed to be no explanation for the amazing scene other than that the onlookers in the distant enclosures had held a feeling of resentment that row on row of ringside seats should remain vacant.

Appeals through the microphone for order had no more effect than the efforts of a score of officials.

The crowd had its way and the contest went on amid uproarious scenes.

Tarleton's battle to wrest for England a world title was heroic. The British champion was courageous, willing and always a great trier, but it just happened that he lacked the boxing knowledge and punishing power of the American.

Only Tarleton himself knows how he survived fifteen rounds.

His revival after severe punishment in the first minute—when he was floored by a body blow—was the feature of the fight.

He carried on in miraculous fashion until regaining full control of his senses, when he gave Miller something to think about.

This is how I read the contest: Miller won the first five rounds, Tarleton the next four and Miller the remaining six.

EASY WIN

It was a comfortable victory, but I cannot help nursing the impression that Miller did not quite display the workmanship of a world's champion.

He had Tarleton so reduced in stamina during the last three rounds that ringside Americans were offering the fantastic odds of 10 to 1 on a knock-out.

Tarleton just lasted out, although it seemed that another minute would have put him out of the boxing game for many a month.

After the thirteenth round, when Tarleton was put through the ropes and fell across the Press table, he was so mentally dazed and so groggy on his feet that he was unable to return to his corner unassisted.

When the fight was over Miller put through a 3,000-mile telephone call to his manager, Pete Reilly, in New York.

"I won, Pete," were his first words, and then he settled down to half an hour's conversation.

In a statement to the Press, Miller said: "It was one of my best fights, and I am sure I won."

Tarleton said: "I am disappointed. I thought I had done sufficient to earn the referee's decision. I would like to meet Miller in a third fight."

SOME SURPRISES

Some early surprises have already proved that any attempt at forecasting Tennis form is even more difficult than attempting to do so for (local) racing.

Who would have expected William Allison to be "out" in the first round, while our old friend Borotra who has announced his approaching retirement in singles to many times, not only plays this year, but spruces the greatest surprise of the first days play by beating H. Henkel Germany's No. 2 player, who so definitely beat Macgrath as well as Crawford in the Davis Cup Match between Australia and Germany less than three weeks ago. I shall hope to have some more comments and criticisms to put before you when I speak again on Sunday.

THE SECOND "HELEN" THROUGH

Miss Jacobs At Wimbledon

London, July 2.

Miss Helen Jacobs, of America, advanced through the quarter-final round of the Wimbledon championships to-day, beating Miss Jedzejowska of Poland, but only by a matter of seconds. Had she been forced into a third set she might have wilted and lost the match, for she was exhausted at the finish.

The American won 6-1, 9-7.

Miss Jedzejowska staged a remarkable recovery after being stage-struck in the first set. She found her form in the second, and with it her driving touch. She hit winners magnificently into both wings.

Miss Jacobs chopped in reply and was forced to do a vast amount of sprinting.

The Polish girl went to 5-2 and was twice playing for set point at that game score. At 5-4 she was again within a point of evening the match, but Miss Jacobs threw her last ounce of energy into her game and fought back courageously.

Miss Jacobs was a trifle lucky to win in two sets. A third might have been fatal as she was "all in" at the finish.

EARLY MATCHES

In early matches, the English hopes were dashed, for Miss Dorothy Round, the holder, and Miss K. Stammers both were defeated. Miss Round was eliminated by the youthful Australian, Miss Jean Hartigan. Frau Sperling, of Germany, beat Miss Stammers.

Mrs. Helen Willis-Moody, favoured to win the championship, defeated Mme. Mathieu of France handily, as was expected.

In the mixed doubles, Nishimura and Miss Noel beat Andrews and Miss Ridley 6-2, 5-7, 6-4.

SURPRISE WIN

London, July 2.

A surprise was given the crowd at Wimbledon late in the afternoon when, in one of the best performances of the present championships, Gandar-Dower and Wheatcroft of Great Britain defeated Menzel and Hecht of Czechoslovakia, the Davis Cup pair, by scores of 1-8, 8-6, 6-4, 7-5.

AROUND THE COURTS

ALLEGED ARSON

Sitting until 6.35 p.m. yesterday the case against Ng Yuen-chow who is charged with alleged arson at the Sam Man Towel Manufacturing Company, of No. 104 Fuk Wan Street, and Ng King-chiu, charged with alleged procurement of the crime was adjourned by the Kowloon Magistrate until tomorrow at 2.30 p.m.

Addressing the first defendant, Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones stated that he had received a letter from Mr. M. A. da Silva, solicitor informing him that he (Mr. da Silva) had received instructions to represent the defendant.

Unfortunately Mr. da Silva was taken ill and was admitted into hospital, and would not therefore be able to represent the defendant. The letter asked for an adjournment.

He (the Magistrate) quite clearly could not grant an adjournment at this stage, but could consider an application by the defendant to instruct someone else.

If the case was not finished within a day or two, it would mean it could not be sent to the Sessions until August which would not be fair to all concerned.

Mr. Sin, for the second defendant, interposed that he had no objection to such a course being adopted as it did not affect him at all, but said that he understood from Mr. da Silva's clerk that if he could not be discharged from hospital within a week, he would instruct someone else to represent defendant.

The Magistrate said that it was impossible for him to consider this, as the coming Sessions commenced on July 19. After further discussion the Magistrate said that he did not think it was unfair to first defendant, as he would be getting a new trial. If it were a summary case, it would be very different and he would be inclined to grant an adjournment for whatever period necessary in the circumstances then prevailing.

The case then proceeded with evidence given by Li Ho and Chui Wai Nam. Both witnesses when cross-examined by Mr. Sin denied having been seen leaving the premises just prior to the outbreak of the fire.

Li Ho also denied an allegation that he saw second defendant assisting in putting out the fire.

A NOMINAL FINE

Kwok San-ying, female, who appeared before Mr. S. F. Balfour at Central Magistracy yesterday, on a summons for transferring or sub-letting her restaurant licence at 218, Hennessy Road, without first obtaining permission from the right quarters, to Chan Chi-lan, was fined $5.

Mr. M. K. Lo, for the defence, pleaded guilty and explained that the summons was adjourned from last week by Mr. Schofield in order that the defendant might resume her business. The S.C.A. was not pressing for heavy punishment at all. The defence was committed under very exceptional circumstances.

Inspector K. W. Andrew said he had been instructed by the S.C.A. to ask for a small fine. He visited the premises on Tuesday, and from what he could see, the defendant, to his intent and purposes had taken over the business again. The business was run in a perfectly orderly manner.

PAGAN BRIDES' VOWS

Pagan marriages before a flaming bonfire and a weird fire dance in the heart of a forest near Berlin were features of lurid Whitsun ceremonial carried out recently by followers of the Pagan German Faith movement.

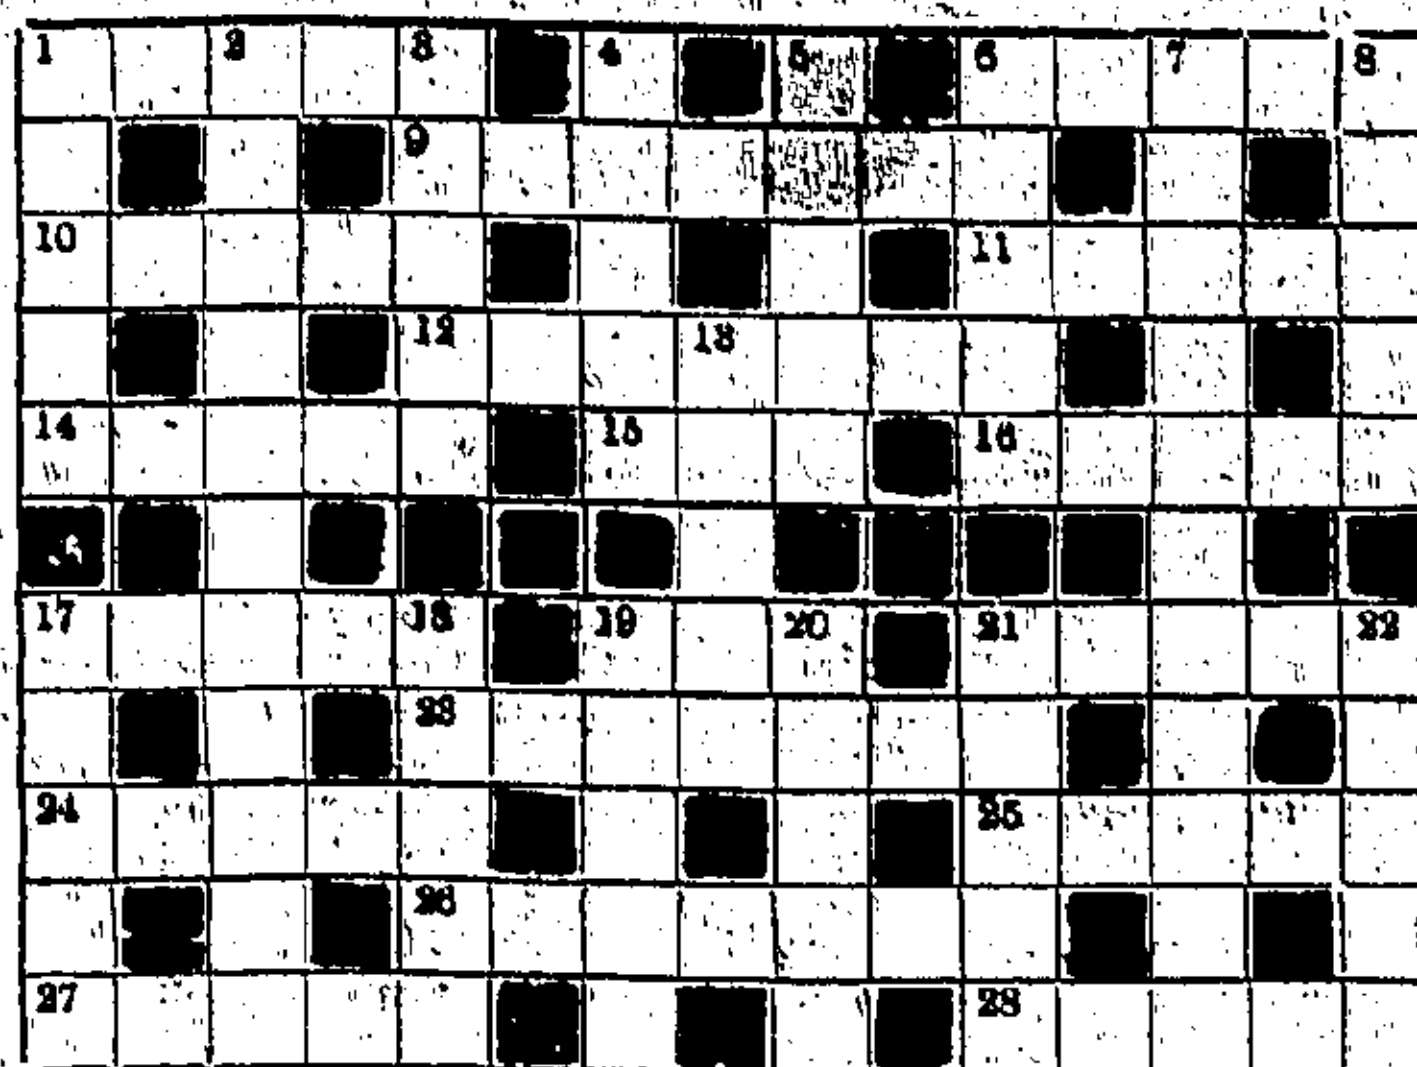

The two bridal couples, says Reuter, sat on a bench in front of the bonfire in a forest clearing. On their heads the brides wore floral garlands.

After an address by the local pagan leader, the couples stood up and gave their word to "keep their bodies pure, to love the country, and to serve the State."

Little children gave the couples rings, which were exchanged.

When darkness fell ten young men bearing torches listened to an invocation pronounced by the pagan leader. Then one man recited an oath and leapt over the flames, others following him. It was the pagan fire dance.

Are you over 40?

Difficult breathing, headaches, dizziness, sleeplessness, lack of appetite and high blood pressure are some of the dreaded symptoms of advancing age. Increasing the amount of minerals in the body is, next to the leading of a regular life, the most logical way to restore undisturbed Health.

You can do this easily with Kalzana tablets, because here you have a mineral food that builds up better Health in an entirely natural manner.

A well-known physician describing his experience of Kalzana Tablets with 6 patients, writes:

"Kalzana had a very favourable influence. The vitality of the patients improved remarkably, the shortness of breath disappeared and the dizziness, headache, lack of appetite and sleeplessness were conquered."
